

Taracorp to fund study on lead pile cleanup

By SUSANNE INDELICATO
of the Press-Record

Illinois Environmental Protection Agency (IEPA) officials have announced that the IEPA, the federal EPA and the Illinois Attorney General's office have "come to terms" with the National Lead Industries—Taracorp Lead Smelter in Granite City.

According to IEPA Public Information Officer Bob Casteel, NL Industries—Taracorp has agreed to fund a pollution study and assessment of the Granite City lead smelter and reclamation facility. The 25-acre smelter and waste pile is one of 11 proposed Superfund sites in Illinois. (The Superfund was established by Congress in 1980 as a national trust to provide funds for cleaning up hazardous sites.)

OFFICIALS HOPE to determine if any lead contamination is attributable to the site, which is near the intersection of 15th and State streets. Casteel said there are approximately 225,000 tons of broken batteries, furnace slag and other lead wastes on the site.

"Through a Superfund administrative order, NL has consented to privately finance a remedial investigation and feasibility study of lead pollution problems in Granite City, Madison and Venice," Casteel reported.

The 15-month study will evaluate the extent of the pollution, identify the waste present at the site, examine hydro-geologic (sub-surface soil) conditions, surface soil, groundwater, surface water and air quality.

AS PART of the study, he added, NL is responsible for developing clean-up options through available waste-management technologies. Superfund also requires a community relations program that encourages public comment and a review of proposed clean-up alternatives.

The investigation and study, Casteel notes, must be approved by state and federal authorities.

Taracorp, which purchased the recycling facility in 1979 from NL, has filed for reorganization in U.S. bankruptcy court. The state of Illinois has negotiated a $500,000 expenditure from Taracorp to fund its share of the study and cleanup, subject to the approval of the bankruptcy court. Casteel adds that the $500,000 will cover the cost of the study and, perhaps, part of the cleanup.

NL HAS AGREED to pay $60,000 to the Illinois Hazardous Waste

Fund, which contains monies set aside for the clean-up of hazardous wastes at abandoned sites.

State Representative Sam Wolf (D-Granite City) said Wednesday that he is pleased that something is being done about the waste pile.

"I've been interested in the lead pile for some time because it is a menace to the whole area around it," Wolf commented. "I'm glad to see this agreement materialize and I hope to see something come of it."

Realtor blasts council plan for new GC housing code

By SUSAN SIGNAIGO-WEICH
of the Press-Record

Realtor Carl Hoffman, one of the newly-appointed members of the Granite City Plan Commission, was outspoken in his dislike for the city's plan to bring in a new housing code Tuesday night.

Hoffman made his opinion known to during a city planning and zoning committee meeting before the regular city council meeting Tuesday night.

"THERE ARE PEOPLE in Granite City that are poor—and by that I mean their only income is Social Security," he said. "If these people are trying to sell their homes, they can't afford to make the repairs and the buyer isn't going to make them, because he's already locked in to a certain price."

"The buyer is locked in because he's buying what he can afford. If he could afford a home in perfect condition, he'd buy it."

"I'm against the housing code 100 percent because it would hurt more people than it would help," the Realtor said.

HOFFMAN ALSO suggested that the inspections of homes for sale (which could become a reality if a new housing code were instituted) could turn into a political game.

He handed committee members copies of Madison city inspection forms from homes that have been placed on the market. Examples of repairs that needed to be made, according to the inspection sheets, included the repair of cracked wallpaper and the repainting of a stairway wall in a basement.

Homes in Madison must pass inspection before the new owners are issued occupancy permits. These owners must then present the occupancy permit to the utility companies before their gas, electric and water can be turned on.

AFTER REVIEWING the inspection sheets, Alderman Sharon Perjak agreed that some of the repairs listed on the Madison inspection sheet are clearly "nit-picking" and should be avoided. "These people are living at the mercy of one man (a city inspector)," she said.

Alderman Woodrow "Woody" Moad, chairman of the planning and zoning committee, agreed that the council is trying to avoid this type of thing. "I'd heard that this type of thing was going on (in Madison), but this is the first example I've seen of it," he said. "I don't want this housing code to become a political thing because that is wrong. I am against anything this stringent."

"All I want is for homes to be safe, I think we can come up with a code that we all can live with, if we take our time and get input from persons like Realtors," Moad said.

HOFFMAN SAID he thinks one way of preventing the inspections from becoming political would be to have the inspections done when the house is listed. The repairs necessary could then become part of the price of the home, or the seller could lower the price of the home on the condition that the repairs be made.

According to Hoffman, the inspections done in Madison are not performed until there is a buyer for the home. "They wait to see who the buyer is before they make their inspection," he said.

Moad said he would be in favor of the timing suggested by Hoffman for the inspections. "That's the type of input we are looking for," he said. "We feel that a housing code would be a move to help the city as a whole. We want the city to look better."

"THE COUNCIL HAS directed our committee to come up with a housing (Continued on Page 5)

Teachers' seniority debated

By SUSANNE INDELICATO
of the Press-Record

A proposed policy for breaking ties in teacher seniority when considering dismissals or recalls has been tabled by the Granite City Board of Education.

Board members decided to take no action on the proposed policy until the policy committee can re-evaluate the procedure. That decision came after Granite City Federation of Teachers Local 743 President Shirley Stoll objected to some of the procedures in the proposed policy.

ACCORDING to the proposal, when two or more teachers have the same seniority and the same qualications, the school board would use seven criteria to determine which of the teachers would be honorably dismissed or recalled:

—A satisfactory performance evaluation for two years prior to the lay-off period.

—Attendance two years prior to the lay-off year.

—Highest degree earned.

—Number of credit hours in college-level courses.

—Number of years teaching experience in the Granite City School District and elsewhere.

—The longest uninterrupted service in the Granite City School District.

—And, should there still be a tie,

the sole discretion of the school board.

MRS. STOLL objected to criteria involving performance evaluations, attendance and the discretion of the board in deciding teacher hirings.

"Performance evaluation is subjective by nature of the reports, which are in narrative form," she stated in a letter to school board members. "Evaluations vary with each administrator. The words 'poor, fair, good and excellent' have different meanings for each administrator."

As for the attendance criterion, Mrs. Stoll said, "Attendance is not

TORNADO

More tornadoes than usual predicted

By VALERIE EVENEDEN
of the Press-Record

An inkling that the tornado season in the Quad-City area is fast approaching the Midwest region came with the brief announcement earlier this week that tornado weather conditions existed in Kansas and Oklahoma, with thunderstorms expected from Eastern Texas across the lower Mississippi Valley into Southern Illinois.

Television stations in Southwest Missouri also were alerting viewers to the possibility of tornado conditions on Sunday.

ILLINOIS MAY HAVE more tornadoes than usual in late March, the National Weather Service has said.

An official of the National Weather Service in Chicago went further, saying that Southern Illinois may be in for a particularly active period during March.

Illinois is located at the northeast edge of the most tornado-prone region of the world, according to the Illinois Emergency Services and Disaster Agency.

IN RECOGNITION of this fact, Illinois Governor James R. Thompson has proclaimed this week Tornado Preparedness Week, with schools, hospitals and other public buildings holding their annual tornado drills.

Granite City's network of warning sirens was activated at 10:10 a.m. Tuesday when word was received from the National Weather Service that the statewide drill was underway.

AREA SCHOOLS and hospitals heard the same warning over their tone-activated receivers and took pre-determined measures to ensure the safety of students and patients.

The Granite City area has experienced two destructive tornadoes in recent years and vivid memories still terrify some residents when high winds and darkening skies move into the region.

MAY DAY 1983 will be long remembered by those who went through the onslaught of ultra-powerful winds and rain that caused major damage to Crossroads Plaza Shopping Center and many homes in the Pontoon Road area and elsewhere.

Mayor's forum at 8 p.m. Monday

The time of Monday night's public forum involving three candidates for mayor of Granite City has been moved back one hour due to a conflict in schedules of one of the candidates.

James Pennekamp, executive director of the Tri-Cities Area Chamber of Commerce, explained this week.

The event will be from 8 to 10 p.m. Monday, March 11, in the Granite City Township Hall. Candidates who have agreed to participate are the incumbent, Mayor Paul Schuler, and challengers Von Dee Cruise, the Granite City Township assessor, and Mac Wartfield, Granite City's street superintendent. Ed Jelf, the fourth candidate, has not agreed to participate, but has been sent an invitation and all the same materials sent the other candidates, Pennekamp said.

CABLE TV will videotape the event and rebroadcast it at a later date, so those unable to attend Monday night will have an opportunity to view the event, it was announced.

Each candidate has been sent a list of 16 questions dealing with the future of Granite City and how they see the town progressing in the next four years. Eight of those questions will be selected by the Chamber and asked of the various candidates. Each candidate also will be given time for a closing statement. Attorney Leo Konzen will moderate the event.

ACCORDING to Pennekamp, "On April 2, citizens throughout the Tri-Cities area will have an opportunity to exercise their right to vote and, in so doing, help shape the future of their communities...This (forum) is a unique opportunity for all individuals with a vested interest in the future of Granite City."

The Chamber's Board of Directors is urging Granite City residents to attend the forum so they can be better informed about the issues in this year's mayor campaign, Pennekamp said.

BATON CLASS PERFORMS. Participants in the Beginner II baton class, dressed appropriately in nurses' uniforms, perform a routine to the "Theme to St. Elsewhere" Tuesday night. The girls' routine was one of many performances during the Granite City Park District's annual Winter Carnival at the Granite City High School gymnasium.

TODDLER, 18 MONTHS, PUTS CAR INTO WALL
Penny R. Carroll, 19, of 905 McCambridge Ave., Madison, stopped briefly at G&G Car Wash, 2222 Madison Ave., late last week to deposit some trash in a can when an 18-month-old child passenger apparently pulled the car's transmission lever into the drive position. The vehicle then moved forward, hitting the carwash and knocking down part of the west and south walls, police reports said. The child was not injured. Damage to the brick wall was estimated at $2,000.

GC man sentenced on burglary charges

The charges were filed by the Madison County Sheriff's Department and Johannpeter pleaded guilty Sept. 21, 1984, with sentencing on Jan. 4. For his guilty plea to a burglary charge filed Aug. 8, 1984, Johannpeter was sentenced by Madison County Associate Circuit Judge Charles Roman to spend 135 days in jail, three years of intensive supervisory probation and ordered to pay $95 in court costs. He received the same sentence on an Aug. 29, 1984, burglary charge. For an attempted burglary charge filed Aug. 20, 1984, Johannpeter was ordered to serve 135 days in jail, 30 months intensive supervisory probation and ordered to pay $95 in court costs. Another charge of attempted residential burglary was dismissed on a motion of the state's attorney's office.

Long was arrested by Granite City police after they answered a "burglary in progress" report at the Gene Ross home, 41 Riviera Drive, on July 31, 1984. Police took four persons into custody at the time.

GC man reunited with brothers after 21-year separation

James "Ed" Bell of Granite City joined his five brothers last month in a reunion in Salem, Ill., 21 years after the brothers were separated.

Bell and his brothers were farmed out to various aunts and uncles or foster homes after their parents divorced in 1965. Two of the brothers, who had been placed in foster homes, had remained "missing" since the 1963 divorce.

James Bell's brother, Phillip Bell of Albany, after an extensive search, was able to locate the two missing brothers, Gregory Allen Bell of Salem and Bryan Keith Bell of Indianapolis, Ind.

The six brothers then got together with their father, James Wilson Bell, in Salem.

According to the brothers, Gregory and Bryan Bell were placed in foster homes after their father realized he could not work and care for the two boys, both of whom are handicapped. Gregory Bell was burned as a child, while Bryan Bell is deaf.

Although Gregory and Bryan Bell knew of each other, they did not know about the other four brothers. The four brothers who had been placed with relatives had been keeping in touch with each other.

YMCA SEEKS DRIVER FOR AFTER-SCHOOL PROGRAM

Matthew 12:39 "An evil and adulterous generation seeketh after a sign; and there shall no sign be given to it, but the sign of the prophet Jonas."

How very often I am asked to prove God is real. My personal testimony is my best explanation. I know what kind of a person I was before accepting Christ. I know the change he wrought in me.

The burden of proof, however, is not on God but on us. He said, no sign shall be given except one. There are multiplied thousands of healings by faith in God, and yet millions do not believe in his healing power. Not even if they see the evidence! How many times has the providence of God caused the beggar to become a giver. God supplies his need and he in turn gives to the needs of others. Yet, multitudes declare God has forsaken his people.

The Bible states that the death, burial, and the resurrection of Jesus Christ is God's sign to every generation. The only way to have it work for you, is for you to believe it. You can discuss, ponder, research, argue, or a hundred other things and still not be a believer. Accept God's sign - believe it and all his kingdom becomes yours.

Why not accept and believe?

More tornadoes predicted

ware store was estimated at millions more.

ON APRIL 3, 1981, there were 13 Granite City homes destroyed by a twister that also damaged more than 102 other residences, a church and local school buildings, leaving 21 persons injured and in excess of $1.1 million damage in its wake.

Despite the widespread destruction, the Quad-City area has been lucky. There was no loss of life in either disaster and those injured were not seriously impaired.

Unfortunately, we, in the St. Louis bi-state metropolitan area, are residents of a five-state area known as "tornado alley."

TORNADO ALLEY extends from Texas north through Oklahoma, Kansas, Nebraska and Missouri into Illinois, studies show.

Although tornadoes have occurred in all 50 states, the frequency of twisters in the Midwest has helped substantially to give the United States the unfortunate distinction of being the "tornado capital of the world."

In the "alley," usually from April through June, warm air flowing northward from the Gulf of Mexico collides with cold, dry winds blowing south from Canada, giving birth to the violent thunderstorms that spawn tornadoes.

A TORNADO—from "tornado," the Spanish word for "thunderstorms"—is a rotating column of air spinning around a vacuum.

The funnel is made of condensed water, in effect a cloud, which when it reaches the ground, picks up dirt and debris, turning the twister black in color.

Its great destructive power comes from the high, twisting velocity of its winds, which can churn at more than 300 miles per hour.

Because most twisters are short-lived and seldom travel more than 15 miles, there are extremely difficult to study, scientists say.

TRAVELING NORTHEASTERLY at about 40 miles an hour, twisters spin in a counterclockwise rotation and, occasionally, they come in bunches, lasting a longer period of time than the normal four to five minutes—up to 30 minutes or so.

Each year tornadoes kill hundreds of people and thousands of homes are destroyed. Whole buildings disappear and only their basements are left.

Because of the Quad-City area's location within "tornado alley," extra precautions must be taken this time of year.

ALL RESIDENTS also are being reminded to learn the best possible methods of safeguarding lives should weather conditions indicate that tornado activity is possible, authorities state.

When the skies look threatening, listen to the radio, authorities suggest. The National Weather Service tracks all weather systems with sophisticated radar and is usually able to give adequate advance warning of violent weather conditions approaching.

A TORNADO WATCH means the atmospheric conditions are such that tornadoes could develop.

A TORNADO WARNING means an actual funnel has been sighted in the area. Warnings are usually accompanied by a description of the speed and direction of travel of the funnel and in the Granite City area, the network of warning sirens is sounded.

When a watch is issued, Quad-Cityans should listen to broadcast advisories and be ready to take cover. It is wise to collect a battery-powered light and radio and have family members within carshot under watch conditions.

Also, persons here are advised to take their car keys. Should a tornado hit the area, a car may still be operable, but the keys could be lost in the rubble.

When a tornado threatens, immediate action can save lives.

IMPORTANT TIPS include staying away from windows, doors, outside walls and protecting the head.

Residents are urged to go to the basement or a place in the middle of the house, like a closet, bathroom or interior hall and get under something sturdy.

In school, students are urged to be calm and follow the directions of the teachers. Students should stay away from auditoriums and gymnasiums with wide, huge roofs that could collapse easily.

In shopping center or very large buildings, persons should look for a predesignated shelter or a middle hallway on the lowest floor.

IN MOBILE HOMES OR CARS, authorities suggest, "Leave them and find shelter in a building."

If there is no shelter nearby, persons exposed to an approaching tornado are advised to lie flat in the nearest ditch, ravine or culvert with their hands shielding their head.

If a tornado should hit, the authorities say, "Remain calm. Panic never helps." Most tornadoes are short-lived, averaging only four or five minutes and traveling on the ground for two miles.

AFTER THE STORM, residents should closely inspect their property, including vehicles, for damage. Immediately checks for electrical problems and gas leaks and a report to utilities or fire departments if danger is imminent are advised.

Heavy rain can follow a tornado, so it is suggested that victims secure their property, if possible, from further damage or theft. Those with extensive damage should contact their insurance companies immediately.

No one should enter a building damaged by a tornado until they are sure it is safe and will not collapse.

"Do not telephone directly into or visit a disaster area. Reports will be broadcast, so let the rescue work proceed unhampered by spectators and curiosity seekers," the officials suggest.

"NOTIFY RELATIVES of your safety, but limit calls to one minute each. Telephone lines may be used for emergency calls," they add.

Only approved or chlorinated swimming water should be consumed and food with broken seams and food left in an open that may contain particles of glass or other debris should be discarded immediately.

IF NECESSARY, food, clothing, medical care or shelter will be available at a Red Cross station or from Emergency Services and Disaster Agency.

Those who have suffered no damage can be good neighbors and help those who have. Those untouched by the twister can check on elderly people living in their neighborhoods or those residing alone.

"ALWAYS WEAR GLOVES and sturdy shoes during clean-up work. Glass and fiberglass insulation can injure unprotected hands and feet," the officials stress.

Tornado victims also are urged to cooperate with trained and authorized officers and volunteers who arrive to give aid, but not to sign contracts for repair work, removal of rubble or new insurance without consulting authorities.

BURGLARS FORCE DOOR

Burglars forced the apartment door of Greg Jones, 3825 Village Lane, damaging the frame and interior trim, and stole VCR equipment valued at $400, a microwave oven worth $500, a 19-inch color television worth $450, six silver dollars, a man's jewelry box containing three wristwatches and two pocket watches and another jewelry box holding assorted costume jewelry. It was reported at 2:05 p.m. Wednesday.

MAN ROBBED TODAY

Jim Hodgson, 2119 Fourteenth St., was walking west on 14th Street, near Omaha Street, about 12:10 a.m. today when a man struck him from the rear, knocking him to the ground and stole his bicycle containing $100 in personal papers and identification, he told police. The assailant then fled the scene.

GRIM REMINDER of the May 1, 1983, tornado that swept through Granite City at 9:28 p.m., leaving a path of destruction from the Tri-City Regional Port Authority on the Chain of Rocks Canal, across the Shasta and A.O. Smith plants on Missouri Avenue (old Route 3) before smashing into Crossroads Plaza Shopping Center and homes adjacent to Pontoon Road. The view is south on Nameoki Road from near the shopping center, with the remains of the Fox Photo drive-in building laying in the foreground. Granite City was fortunate. Although millions of dollars in property damage occurred, there was no loss of life. In April 1981, a tornado destroyed 13 homes and damaged 102 other residences here. Citizens are being reminded of the past as the tornado season starts and Illinois "Tornado Preparedness Week" is observed, with precautions being advocated. (Press-Record Photo) cupped more than 150 officers using police helicopters and tracking dogs in the heavily wooded area around Bonne Terre and Flat River, Mo., about 60 miles south of St. Louis, where Mallett's car was chased by a St. Francois County chief deputy sheriff.

THE VEHICLE was found wrecked about two miles north of Bonne Terre and the manhunt was on, with at least 16 roadblocks set up in the surrounding area.

Not only were law enforcement people in Missouri searching for the suspect, Officers in Illinois, Kansas, Oklahoma and Texas, all keenly affected by the shooting tragedy, were also on the alert.

Tuesday night, a man whom officers described as "showing a very close resemblance to Mallett" was taken into custody, along with another man, after the pair reportedly was seen jumping from a freight train and walking along railroad tracks toward Granite City.

GRANITE CITY officers were alerted by Special Agent Fred Greening of the Chicago & North-Western Railroad, headquartered in Madison, that one of the two men looked like Mallett, the man who allegedly shot the Missouri State trooper.

Armed with shotguns, several local officers converged near the railroad tracks in the vicinity of Route 162, east of Maryville Road, and two black men were taken into custody without incident.

The physical description of one of the men picked up was uncannily similar to Mallett, one of the arresting officers said.

THE MAN SAID his name was Edward Merritt and that he was from Texas. He actually had a handcuff burn mark on his left wrist and a scar on his forehead and hand, along with other facial characteristics attributed to the hunted man, local officers said.

Mallett allegedly had the Missouri trooper's handcuffs on one wrist when he fled the state police car and reportedly still was wearing the handcuff when apprehended.

Police also allegedly recovered a Texas driver's license in the slain trooper's car and Mallett was believed to have a brother in a Texas jail.

Merritt was photographed and fingerprinted here and there was sufficient doubt concerning his identity that a fingerprint comparison with Mallett's prints was immediately requested.

MERRITT'S PRINTS did not match Mallett's and the pressure

Edward Merritt, 30, of Big Springs, Texas, and his companion, Joseph Lofter Dye, 40, of Miami, Fla., were both charged with criminal trespass to property in complaints signed by a railroad officer.

They appeared in the Granite City court before Associate Judge Thomas Hildebrand at 1:15 p.m. Tuesday and were given one year's court supervision each and then were released.

ABOUT 300 state patrolmen from Illinois, Kentucky, Tennessee, Iowa, Kansas, Oklahoma, Arkansas, Maryland, Michigan and Missouri were among 600 mourners attending Trooper Froemdsdorf's funeral Tuesday in Cape Girardeau, Mo.

A Vietnam veteran and a nine-year law enforcement officer, he was the first Missouri trooper to be fatally shot in the line of duty in 16 years.

Among the survivors are his wife, Sara, three daughters, Teri, Kimberly and Amy, and his parents, Mark and Fred Froemdsdorf of Cape Girardeau.

Clarifying rules on drainage

With the recent heavy rains and many flooded yards and fields in this area, demands for governmental officials to do something to relieve the flooding have intensified.

The issue was hotly debated at Monday night's meeting of the Chouteau Town Board of Trustees and is certain to come up in other governmental meetings in the near future.

Some simple facts need to be restated. It is not the task of the cities or townships to remove water, unless that water is on or threatening a highway or road under the jurisdiction of that street department or township highway department.

We pay taxes for drainage to the Metro-East Sanitary District, which is the entity responsible for drainage. Only to protect roads can cities or townships legally deal with standing water in fields or yards.

Unfortunately, the sanitary district has been digging out from a gigantic debt incurred by past boards. Walter "Shang" Greathouse, executive director of the sanitary district, has done an outstanding job bringing the district out of debt.

However, the drainage taxes we pay only provide enough money for the sanitary district to maintain its existing ditches and pump stations. It is unlikely any new major ditches or storm sewer systems will be constructed here in the near future without a tax increase.

Long-range drainage plans are being formulated by the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers, but how their proposed systems will be financed remains to be seen.

In the meantime, we feel it is important for Quad-Cityans to understand that cities and townships have no authority to remove standing water that does not threaten any roadway. We have frequently run photos of past highway commissioners in both Nameoki and Chouteau townships draining fields with township equipment and questioned whether this was legal.

From all indications, it is not.

Say good-bye to lead in gas

It is with mixed reaction that we greet the news that the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) has announced plans to remove virtually all of the lead from gasoline by Jan. 1, 1986.

The agency's final regulations reduce permissible lead concentrations in leaded gasoline from 1.1 grams per gallon now to half a gram per gallon by July 1 and one-tenth of a gram by Jan. 1, 1986.

The EPA estimates that lead in the air reduced the IQ scores of 42,000 children under the age of 7 approximately 2.2 points. It also believes that the economy of the nation will benefit by approximately $900 million a year in reduced medical costs and lower maintenance costs for engines now fueled with leaded gasoline unnecessarily.

Lee M. Thomas, the EPA administrator, said here is "no doubt in my mind" that lead in the air is a major contributor to lead exposure and brain damage, particularly among smaller children. He believes the action will mean 172,000 fewer children will have blood lead concentrations above the new definition of lead poisoning.

That is all good news, but the other side of the coin is that owners of autos manufactured prior to 1971 require leaded gasoline to operate properly. There is question whether one tenth of a gram of lead per gallon is enough to keep valves from being damaged in those cars. The EPA says it is enough. Time will tell.

Unleaded gasoline is a few cents a gallon more expensive than leaded gasoline, which has led some drivers to "cheat" by removing the gasoline intake protection rings on their cars so they can pump leaded gasoline into autos designed to use unleaded gasoline. This is a dangerous, and illegal, practice. The catalytic converters on all cars built after 1971 can overheat and set the cars on fire if leaded gasoline is used.

Once the refineries discontinue their leaded gasoline lines and convert all lines to unleaded gasoline, production costs should decline and the availability of unleaded gasoline should increase. Both these factors should point to lower gasoline prices. However, as we have seen in recent years, gasoline seems to be one thing where the price is not controlled by supply and demand.

We haven't yet figured out who determines the price of gasoline here, but if we do, we will call for that person to be indicted.

Apartment an example labor is losing clout

To the Editor:

Once again election time is upon us and as always there will be endorsements from various labor groups, the biggest one being the Tri-City Trades and Labor Council.

In my opinion in the last 10 years, the labor council has lost a great deal of clout. The reason being when a good candidate would run for office and appear in front of the council for an endorsement, he more than likely would not get it because his opponent had friends on the council and whoever has the most friends gets the endorsement. It's been more or less a popularity contest.

When union people vote April 2 they should, remember one of the biggest union issues to hit this city was the federal housing project (Town & Country) on Parkview Drive, that was built non-union. I'm not against housing the poor or elderly, I am against the people who brought non-union workers in from other states to build this project when we were faced with so many unemployed workers in this community.

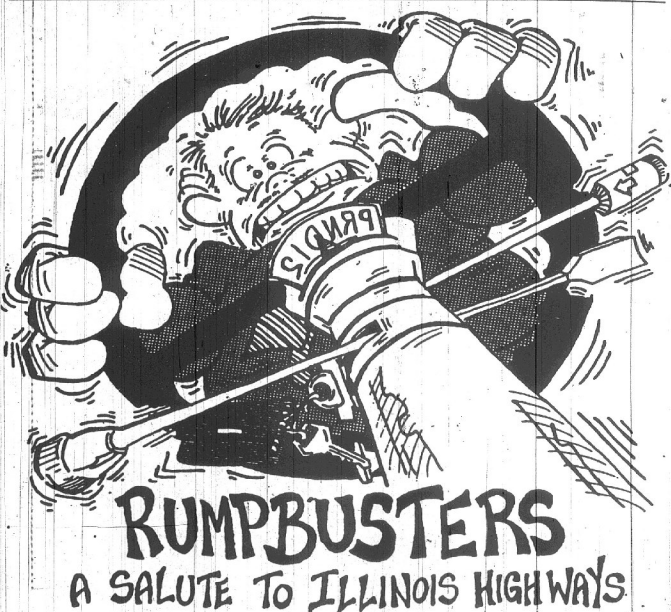

I'm against the location in which it was built. The property value of those beautiful homes, across from the housing project, will probably drop tremendously. And last, I'm against the city officials who were instrumental in bringing this non-union project to our community and not informing the people of the Sixth Ward it was going to be built there.

So when you vote, remember when you were out of work and couldn't get employment one of the biggest housing projects in the last 30 years was being built, non-union, in your own hometown.

I urge every union member to contact their union representative at let their feelings be known.

Income tax forms

Visitors to the Granite City Post Office Wednesday were asked if they had any specific ideas or suggestions on how to simplify federal and state income tax forms. Their comments follow.

Dr. Gerard Baggot, Granite City

"Yes, it costs me a lot of money to have my forms filled out properly and the tax laws are changing each year. A flat income tax for everyone, say 10 percent or 15 percent, assuming they are above the poverty level, would be fairer."

W.E. Weller, Granite City

"It's so simple it's pathetic. Everyone should pay 5 percent, or some small percentage, period. The employer could withhold this at the end of each pay period and send it to government. The government would get its money evenly throughout the year and we'd be paying it evenly over the year. And at the end of the year we'd all be even and there would be no need for the forms."

Mike Mollet, a QC Steel employee

"The basic forms are pretty simple now, but a lot of the extra forms, for businesses and other needs, are still not easily understood. They've come a long way in the past five years. Certain publications referred to in the forms are hard to get and aren't too easily understood with all the legal language."

Mike Sikora, Granite City

"Basically, I'm in favor of flat tax. The tax system is unfair for a lot of groups. And they should tax the corporations at a fair rate."

Needs letters to avoid Social Security cut

To the Editor:

Letters protesting the proposed freeze on the cost-of-living (COLA) in Social Security benefits may be among the most important letters you'll ever have to write.

The postage needed to mail them is expensive, very expensive. Unless we are willing to shoulder that expense now, however, the results may be far more costly in the future than the price of postage now.

Other Americans will sacrifice as much as $40 billion in benefits by 1989 as a result of the six-month delay in the COLA in 1983. The loss is a cumulative one and the earned benefits are never restored.

If the freeze measure is not defeated, studies show, half-a-million more seniors will fall below the poverty line.

Write to your Congressmen, to the United States senators from your state and to President Reagan.

If all of the seniors in this country would pick up their pens, the millions of letters pouring into the nation's Capital would be sending a message loud and clear! The message is, "Older Americans are not sitting and nodding while the rug is being pulled out from under us. We're wide awake and watching—and holding on to what we've got!"

In a letter sent to all members of the National Council of Senior Citizens, Executive Director William Hutton advised that support for the freeze is growing in the Senate and that President Reagan's press conference statement that he would "look at" the proposed COLA freeze, should Congress approve one, is a direct contradiction of his promises made during his 1984 reelection campaign, when he pledged never to "tamper" with Social Security benefits.

Here are all the addresses you need:

To the president, The Honorable Ronald Reagan, the White House, Washington, D.C. 20500.

To the senators, The Honorable Senator Alan J. Dixon and Paul Simon, United States Senate, Washington, D.C. 20510.

To your congressman, the honorable representative Melvin Price and Kenneth Gray, United States House of Representatives, Washington, D.C. 20515.

It is my job to keep abreast of legislation which affects the elderly and those in low and fixed income. I urge you to respond to this information.

Asks Gordon to attend candidates' forum

To the Editor:

On February 12, our organization invited the candidate for mayor of Madison to a public forum for all voters, to be held March 24 at the Madison Recreation Center.

Included in the invitation was the proposed format—an opening statement by each (determined by lot) followed by a period of questions by the voters, directed to either or both of them to answer, and a summation (in reverse order) by each to conclude the afternoon.

The main purpose of our organization is to provide a means where citizens may seek information, and we felt the forum would provide each voter an excellent opportunity to question each candidate on the issues the voters choose—not answers prepared by a committee on specific topics the candidate is willing to discuss.

John Belcoff accepted promptly. We had no reply from Tom Gordon, and on February 21, when we finally made connection, he could not give a definite answer, saying his committee would have to approve. We've heard nothing further, until his advertisement appeared in the local papers inviting his opponent to a public debate.

According to Webster, "debate—to discuss a question by considering opposed arguments" and "forum—a public meeting place for open discussion."

Is Mr. Gordon's willingness to debate only certain questions an evasion via semantics? Is it to bypass the voters' questions on issues they feel are important, in favor of those he wishes to discuss?

We feel the voters deserve answers from whomever will run the city for the next four years. Since Mr. Gordon is determined to "represent each and every citizen," it is important for him to know what they want. After all, the voters will be the "executive committee" at the polls.

The public is invited to the Madison Recreation Center, Sunday afternoon, March 24, at 1:30 p.m. We hope Mr. Gordon will make his own decision to give the voters a chance to discuss his solutions to problems facing all of us.

Says annexation threatens more farms

To the Editor:

I am responding for a few but proud farmers that benefit our community out on Bend Road. For the past 25 years they have fought to hold onto their land, as well as their way of life.

In your Thursday issue in Readers-React, we had local opinion on farmers. If you agree to the poll taken by your paper, our community is appreciative of our farmers. But yet, with the recent annexation in the area of Bend Road and Horseshoe Lake, by the city of Madison, it proposes another battle for the area farmers.

With the new highway 1-255 and Horseshoe Lake Park, the farmers have been harassed enough without the annexation by Madison.

With so few farming communities in this area, let's give Bend Road and our farmers a rest. We have enough city in our city—let's keep a little country.

Groundbreaking for Venice Neighborhood Watch sign

By VALERIE EVENDEN
of the Press-Record

Groundbreaking ceremonies are scheduled at 1 p.m. Saturday, March 30, for the installation of the first access route sign, signifying Venice as a Neighborhood Watch community, Mayor Tyrone Echols announced at Tuesday night's meeting of the Venice City Council.

A clean-up, paint-and-fix-up campaign in Venice, spearheaded by the Venice Neighborhood Watch program, also is underway, the mayor reported.

In the council session, he responded to several questions posed by watch members.

ON SATURDAY, Girl Scouts will be helping senior residents living in the vicinity of New Salem Baptist Church who need assistance to remove debris, Mayor Echols announced.

The groundbreaking for the first Neighborhood Watch access sign will take place in the parking area at eastern approach to the McKinley Bridge, it was announced.

Several distinguished guests will attend and refreshments will be served, according to Mrs. Pam Wilson, Mrs. Frankie Griggs and Mrs. Lois Wilson, the organizers.

THE NEIGHBORHOOD WATCH group, formerly named Crime Blockers, was organized primarily to aid police officers reduce crime in the community.

More than 50 volunteer block captains have been recruited and in excess of 500 persons have agreed to take part in the public awareness program, already credited with helping to lessen the number of burglaries in the city.

Immediate repairs have been ordered at a local laundry building by the building inspector and the fire marshal, the mayor said, in answer to one question asked by clean-up program leaders.

RESPONDING to an inquiry about debris on several lots on College Avenue, Mayor Echols commented that the first lots are in Venice and the remainder lie in Madison's jurisdiction.

"We have been on top of those lots for the last six months," he added.

Police Chief Farris Smith and Third Ward Alderman John Ervin have been in contact with railroad officials about the condition of the Market Street crossing, the mayor also advised.

Mrs. Gertrude Young sought council action to complete demolition of a neighborhood structure. "It is a threat," she said.

"Part of it has been torn down and the roof is off. But when the wind blew the other night, the debris was scattered all over my property," she told the council.

REVENUE SHARING funds were authorized for use by the Silver Bell Senior Citizens after a report was given noting that reorganization procedures were completed and the group had applied for a charter and not-for-profit status with the Illinois secretary of state.

The first projects authorized for the group were approval of bus transportation on March 18 to the Senior Citizens' Fair at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville and permission to purchase drapes and a public address system for the new Venice Senior Citizens' Community Center at Brown and Klein streets.

an equitable tie-breaker. Members of the bargaining unit are entitled to sick days under Article 36 of the Working Agreement and Chapter 122, Section 24-6 of the Illinois Revised Statutes.

"WE ARE ALSO entitled to emergency leaves per Article 38 of the Working Agreement. In addition, teachers are subject to jury duty. If attendance is used as a seniority tie-breaker, bargaining unit members will be punished for exercising their contractual and statutory rights."

"The last proposed tie-breaker—board discretion—is subjective and certainly inequitable," she added.

Mrs. Stoll continued the implementation of those three criteria will "increase the workload and litigation costs for the school district and the union." She requested that the board postpone action on the policy until the next board meeting (March 19).

TEACHER DICK Huff joined Mrs. Stoll in objecting to the evaluation criteria, noting that some teachers are not evaluated by their principals.

Board Member Dave Partney, who is on the policy committee which drew up the proposal, responded to the objection. "It has been up to the discretion of the board to bring back the best teachers. I feel it is within our professional rights to have these tie-breakers. I feel they are fair and equitable."

Board Member Dave Partney, also a member of the policy committee, added, "All we're suggesting here is that for two years prior to the layoff, are (the teachers) doing the job or not?"

PARTNEY NOTED that the two-year stipulation was established so that evaluation reports could not be "shaded" in anticipation of a teacher's dismissal or recall.

Asked about evaluations of teachers, Superintendent Frank Kraus cited the board's policy, which states that evaluations are to be left to the principal or building supervisor. "No number of evaluations to be performed is set in the policy."

Huff said the evaluation policy has been ineffective. "They have not been done because our people don't have time to do them. I'll bet I don't have a written evaluation in my file in the last four years."

MELTON THEN recommended tabling the tie-breaker policy until further review. "I thought there was an annual assessment, but, if it's not there, I'll have to back off on this thing. I would like to pull this back and have another policy committee meeting to see how many teachers have evaluations for the prior two years."

The policy committee will review the tie-breaker criteria on March 12. Melton must make a decision on the seniority tie-breaker policy before March 26, when the board will conduct a public hearing before determining the number of teachers that will be needed for the next school year.

IN OTHER personnel action, the board accepted with regrets the resignations and retirements of the following: Shirley Cunningham, teacher on leave of absence; Fawntreba Pyrtle, teacher at Wilson School; Judith Rescher, teacher on leave of absence; Virgil Harmon, physical education teacher at the high school; Carol Moore, teacher on exploratory leave; Robert Bash, English teacher at Coolidge Junior High School; Virginia Oram, teacher at Wilson School; Jerry B. Brokaw, boiler man at the high school; William Schmitt, physical education teacher at the high school; and Ruth Klaus, honorably dismissed teacher.

The board extended the leaves of absence for James Aye and Jeanne Francis, and gave permission for Diane Nelson, a high school English teacher, to return from an exploratory leave of absence.

The board approved a contract with Hollywood Andrews photographers to provide student photographs during the 1985-86 and 1986-87 school years. The new contract contains a slight increase in prices for junior high and high school underclassmen over the current contract price.

BOARD MEMBERS also accepted a gift of a control unit and printer for the word processing lab from I.E.S. Manufacturing Corporation of St. Louis.

Officials want second interviews with two superintendent candidates

By SUSANNE INDELICATO
of the Press-Record

Granite City Board of Education members are asking two of the five candidates for school superintendent to return Saturday, March 9, for second interviews.

According to Board President Kelly Hogan, the two out-of-district candidates are being asked to return with their wives or families when the interviews are conducted Saturday morning so that their families may acquaint themselves with the community.

HOGAN SAYS the board still hopes to make a final decision on the new superintendent by Tuesday, March 12, so that the he or she may take over July 1 for acting Superintendent Frank L. Kraus, who is retiring June 30.

Board members instructed Hogan to schedule second interviews with the out-of-district candidates after talking to two in-district candidates Tuesday night.

In other action Tuesday, Board Member Ruth Lahr reported that Governor James Thompson's $330 million plan to increase spending for education includes programs that school districts in the state may not be able to afford.

MRS. LAHR said such programs include a full-day kindergarten and experimental pre-school for youngsters ages 3 to 5. State officials, she said, predict those programs would cost schools another $70 million to implement.

Hoffman and Barbara Wyatt, another real estate agent present at the meeting, agreed that they would continue giving their input to the city, despite their disagreement with the inspection plan. "We can still be here and not disagree with you," Hoffman noted.

Members of the committee will review the housing codes that will include those from Madison, St. Louis County and a proposed ordinance drawn up by the Granite City dance committee several years ago. The planning and zoning committee will meet again Tuesday, April 16, at 6 p.m. at the Township Hall.

MOAD SAID THIS amount of time is necessary between these two meetings to allow members to "really digest" the information in the various codes.

Chamber board backs a 'pure' Cahokia museum

At its last meeting, the Tri-Cities Area Chamber of Commerce Board of Directors discussed and acted upon the recent controversy surrounding the type of museum to be established at Cahokia Mounds.

The controversy involves two points of view on what type of museum would generate the most interest as a national tourism attraction — one in which artifacts and exhibits address numerous Indian cultures from throughout North America, or one which deals exclusively with the Cahokia Mounds cultural experience.

Cahokia Mounds, although largely unappreciated as a tourism resource, offers the potential of becoming a major attraction within Illinois and the nation. The Cahokia Mounds site was recently added to the World Heritage List of Historic Places by the World Heritage Committee of the United Nations. This is the only site in Illinois so designated and one of only 10 throughout the United States to receive this honor.

After a lengthy discussion, the board passed a resolution urging the establishment of a museum which would deal exclusively with the Cahokia Mounds experience. This decision was based upon the belief that it is the unique nature of an attraction which generates public interest.

To dilute the Cahokia Mounds experience with an array of artifacts and exhibits depicting the entire North American Indian experience would be a detriment to the attractiveness of this development, the board felt.

The Cahokia Mounds civilization was one of the largest and most advanced of the Pre-Columbian Indian cultures. Major national and world organizations have recognized the value of this archaeological site and we as leaders in local and regional development activities must help maintain its integrity, the chamber board felt.

DRIVER MISSES DOG, HITS TREE, DWELLING

When Anne M. Modrusis, 23, of 100 Briarhaven Drive, was driving south on Edgewood Avenue, Monday, a dog ran across the road in front of her auto, she told police.

The motorist swerved and braked the vehicle to avoid hitting the animal, but she lost control of the car, which continued traveling southeast over the curb and into the yard at the William D. Duckworth residence at 264 Edgewood Ave., where the auto hit a tree and then struck the west wall of the dwelling.

The impact damaged brickwork near a sectioned window, reports said. The driver was not listed as injured. No damage estimates were available.

YMCA sets fitness class for seniors

The Tri-City YMCA is offering a free morning fitness class for seniors residing in Madison or Venice. The program is conducted at 11 a.m. every Thursday.

According to Ellen Wilson, instructor, the class is geared to people older than 55 years of age. The class works on muscles that have become inactive due to the change of lifestyle caused by the aging process, she said.

"We use slow movements, breathing exercises and emphasize balance and co-ordination," said Mrs. Wilson. "Everyone in the class seems to be very enthusiastic as we try to have lots of fun with a lot of work."

The YMCA also sponsors another senior-fitness class that is held at the Anchorage Center on Mondays and Thursdays at 9:30 a.m. This class is also free of charge and is open to Kirkpatrick and Anchorage seniors only.

For further information, interested persons may call the YMCA at 876-7200.

Man is charged in Colonial Dr. incident

Jeffrey S. Mase, 23, of 3 Colonial Drive, was arrested by Granite City police last week, after he allegedly smashed the front windshield, side windows and rear window on a 1977 pickup truck.

The truck is owned by Donnie Shrum of 2141 Bern Ave. Shrum had his car parked in front of Mase's home at the time of the incident.

When police arrived, Shrum stated that Mase had fled the scene, driving a brown Ford.

After getting the information from Shrum, police observed a car fitting the description of Mase's vehicle in the vicinity of Route 3 and West Ponton Road. Police officers stopped the vehicle and arrested Mase.

While securing Mase's vehicle, officers allegedly noticed the barrel of a 22-caliber semi-automatic pistol sticking out from under the driver's seat.

Mase was charged with criminal damage to property, unlawful use of a weapon and failure to have firearm owner's identification card or a valid driver's license.

Students prepare for math contest

About 5,500 high school students and their coaches from 264 schools in the state are making final preparations to participate in the Illinois Council of Teachers of Mathematics (ICTM) Math Contest regionals to be held Saturday, March 16.

The regional math contests are being conducted simultaneously on 17 college campuses throughout the state, including Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville.

Now in its fifth year, the ICTM Math Contest is co-sponsored by the ICTM and the CNA Insurance Companies of Chicago. It is considered by educators to be the largest and most difficult high school math competition in the country.

Students contestants will be questioned on about 100 college-level math topics. Nearly $20,000 in scholarships, prizes and trophies will be awarded through a grant from CNA.

"The state Math Contest Committee of the ICTM is very pleased to have an increasing number of students and schools enter this contest each year," commented Cindy Stecher, contest chairman and former math teacher at Naperville North High School in Naperville. "These student contestants really enjoy mathematics both in and out of the classroom. Through participation in events like the ICTM Math Contest, they can take pride in receiving recognition for their math achievements."

The high school contestants will convene in day long sessions on 17 Illinois University campuses to take college-level written and oral exams. They also will compete in teams on algebra, geometry, trigonometry, pre-calculus and math analysis questions. Students can be regional winners in three categories — individually, in teams or as a participating school.

Winners of the regional competitions will face off in the ICTM finals at Illinois State University in Normal on May 4.

The ICTM Math Contest was developed jointly by the Illinois Council of Teachers of Mathematics and CNA Insurance Companies in an effort to increase student interest in taking more math courses. The contest also is aimed at helping to eliminate the math illiteracy problem in schools and to encourage young people to consider math-oriented careers.

Other sites for the 1985 ICTM Math Contest regionals are: Augustana College, Rock Island; Chicago State University, Chicago; DePaul University, Chicago; Eastern Illinois University, Charleston; Illinois Central College, East Peoria; Illinois Valley Community College, Oglethorpe; Moraine Valley Community College, Palmyra; North Central College, Naperville; Northern Illinois University, DeKalb; Parkland College, Champaign; Rend Lake College, Ina; Rock Valley College, Rockford; Xavier College, Chicago; Truman College, Chicago; University of Illinois, Chicago; and Western Illinois University, Macomb.

Former resident honored as Police Officer of Year

Detective J. Gayle Mericle, a 10-year veteran of the Joliet, Ill., Police Department, received the Police Officer of the Year Award during recent ceremonies. She is the first female recipient of the award in the 20-year history of the program.

Detective Mericle is the daughter of Edna Perkins of 3108 Bluebird Lane, and the sister of Tracy Perkins, who is a freshman at Granite City High School. The award was presented by the Exchange Club of Joliet after Detective Mericle was nominated by her peers for several outstanding investigations.

In one investigation, she posed as a mental patient while residing in a hotel being investigated for health and safety violations. She also has posed as a prostitute, a nun, an old woman and a drug dealer.

Detective Mericle attributes part of her ability to act and disguise herself to her former speech teachers, Shirley Stoll of Coolidge Junior High School and Richard King of Granite City High School.

As a high school student in Granite City, one of her journalism class assignments was to interview an officer with the police canine unit. That interview led to her interest in police work.

Miss Mericle has worked as a patrol officer and an investigative officer. She also was a member of the Metropolitan Area Narcotics Squad (MANS) for two years. While with MANS, she frequently was loaned to other communities as an undercover agent.

In addition to her police work, Detective Mericle teaches self-defense classes and classes dealing with drug abuse as a public service to area schools and clubs.

Miss Mericle has 11 Joliet Police Department commendations in her personnel file and letters of appreciation from 12 other agencies and individuals. She also received a personal letter of congratulations from Illinois Inspector General Jeremy Margolis. The letter, citing her for her dedication and profes-

Gateway Bpw learns estate planning

By VALERIE EVENDEN
of the Press-Record

Estate planning is essential and trusts provide a flexible type of investment for one's beneficiaries, Terry A. Verzal, assistant vice president and trust officer at Center Trust Co., St. Louis, informed the Gateway Business and Professional Women's Organization at its recent dinner meeting.

He described "estate planning" as a term applied to the art of designing an effective strategy for distribution and disposition of wealth.

ALTHOUGH the most familiar part of an estate plan is a will, a sound plan usually has several components, Verzal explained.

Some of the most important estate planning steps are actions that take effect during one's lifetime, he said.

An estate plan should be designed to provide protection for family and beneficiaries, transfer specific items to particular persons and organizations and accomplish these goals at minimum cost.

RECENT CHANGES in estate tax law have added important flexibility to the art of estate planning, Verzal said.

The trust officer advocated that a person preferring to have control over his or her assets, who also wants 98 percent of the estate to go exactly to whom he or she wants, rather than 100 percent going to the wrong place, should investigate a trust program.

In establishing a trust fund, a small fee is charged to ensure your property goes to the person you choose, he said.

IF YOU PLAN to distribute your estate by will, you must designate a personal representative who will be charged with the administration of the estate in probate court.

Among the most important duties of a personal representative are:

The will must be probated; all property must be assembled, appraised and inventoried; all income of the estate and accounts receivable must be collected; all legal obligations of the decedent must be paid, and federal and state income tax returns must be prepared for the decedent and the estate.

VERZAL POINTED OUT that many people are not fully aware of the true value of their estate, and it is surprising how many people underestimate their true assets and so fail to make adequate plans.

He noted the various types of property ownership includes life insurance and retirement plans, which are paid to the beneficiary named in the specific policy.

Joint tenancy, with the title passing to a survivor; payable on death, passes to a payee or beneficiary; trusts which pass to a beneficiary by trust, and individual ownership which is transferred by will.

"YOU MAY DO NOTHING, in which case the state where you reside will dispose of your estate according to formulas provided by law, or you may make a will."

"Or you may arrange for disposition of all or part of your estate now by placing it in a revocable living trust," the trust officer said.

"It is up to you to decide which method or combination of methods of estate distribution is best for you," Verzal stressed.

The guest speaker was introduced by Finance Chairman Ruth Nicholas, who also served as dinner chairman.

BARBARA HODGES, Gateway BPW president, conducted the business meeting, introducing Helen Abbott, District 14 director, who invited members to attend the district's spring meeting, set at 1 p.m. Sunday, March 10, at the Panorama Lanes, Belleville. Marissa BPW will be the host group.

Also presented was Mary Lou Malwitz, state expansion chairman for the Illinois Federation of Business and Professional Women, who encouraged all prospective Gateway officers and chairmen to take part in a leadership training seminar, scheduled in April at the Ramada Inn, Collinsville.

THE THIRD ANNUAL Illinois-Missouri BPW luncheon will take place March 30 at the Missouri Athletic Club in St. Louis.

Gateway BPW's first annual "Public Relations Night" dinner is set Monday night, March 18, at The Den, Shirley Adams, public relations chairman, announced. Guests are invited to attend, she said.

Booklet includes county DUI facts

Statistics compiled by the Secretary of State's office during 1984 illustrate Illinois' progress in efforts to combat drinking drivers, but indicate the problem is far from solved, according to Illinois Secretary of State Jim Edgar.

Edgar, Monday announced the publication of "Illinois DUI Law: The Facts for 1984," which provides statewide as well as county DUI statistics for 1984 and past years.

The 1984 statistics include both good and bad news on the efforts to combat drinking drivers in Illinois," Edgar said.

"For example, there were 9,138 DUI convictions from 1984 DUI arrests last year, an increase of 115 percent from 1981, before enactment of the new DUI laws," Edgar said.

"At the same time, Illinois traffic fatalities increased slightly last year for the first time in six years and about 800 persons died in accidents involving drinking drivers," Edgar said.

Edgar, who chairs the Illinois DUI Task Force, said the 1984 statistics support many of the task force recommendations submitted to the governor.

Charge woman in two GC incidents

A Carbondale woman, who came into the 19th Hole Tavern, 2401 Washington Ave., at 1:30 a.m. Sunday, allegedly grabbed another woman by the hair, dragged her on the floor and kicked the victim several times, injuring her shoulder, reports said.

After leaving the tavern, Donna S. Churovich, 20, of Carbondale, allegedly kicked out the right taillight on an auto belonging to Soonie Song of Parktowne West Mobile Home Park, who was the victim in the previous incident and had been seated in the bar near Daniel Churovich of Village Lane, the alleged assailant's estranged husband.

Mrs. Churovich then left the area.

An hour later, officers were called to an address in the 2200 block of Washington Avenue, where Don Juergensen reported Mrs. Churovich was beating on the door wanting to speak to her husband, Daniel, who is Juergensen's stepson.

The Churovichs are in the process of getting a divorce, it was reported.

When police arrived at the Washington Avenue address, they alleged seeing a woman run from both sides of the house and try to hide behind a parked auto.

Mrs. Churovich was taken into custody and charged with disorderly conduct. Later, when complaints were signed, she also was charged with battery and criminal damage to property relating to the tavern incident.

In a court appearance Monday, Mrs. Churovich pleaded innocent and was released on notice to appear for a hearing.

Vadalabene urges check-off for child abuse prevention

Taxpayers in the 56th legislative district can play a direct role in helping prevent child abuse and neglect in the Metro-East area, Senator Sam Vadalabene (D-Edwardsville) said Tuesday.

Senator Vadalabene urged taxpayers to consider donating up to $10 of their state income-tax refund to the Child Abuse Prevention Fund listed on their Illinois tax form.

Last year Illinois taxpayers donated nearly a million dollars to three funds through the check-off program created by the General Assembly, with the child abuse fund receiving $68,000 of the total, the senator said.

Nearly $40,000 of the total donation to the child abuse fund was used to support child abuse prevention and education programs located in the 56th District, Senator Vadalabene noted.

The Department of Children and Family Services, which administers the fund, makes grants from the fund to three local agencies and services organizations.

A $24,250 joint grant was made to the Oak View Center of Alton and to the Women's Crisis Center of Belleville and $12,762 was awarded to the Coordinated Youth Service of Granite City.

Senator Vadalabene said the grants were awarded to the local organizations for programs that were designed to either improve parent/child interactions, provide services to families in which there is domestic violence or to prevent child sexual abuse.

"When considering making a check-off donation, taxpayers in this district should keep in mind that a donation to the child abuse fund will help fight the child abuse problem in this area," Senator Vadalabene said.

"We in the General Assembly are committed to allocating tax dollars to combat child abuse. The check-off allows concerned citizens the chance to bolster our efforts," he added.

Other funds named on the state tax forms for check-off are the Illinois Veterans Home Fund, the Illinois Non-Game Wildlife Conservation Fund and the Illinois Food and Housing Assistance Fund.

A Pontoon Beach man was charged with resisting arrest and disorderly conduct following a domestic disturbance Monday, March 4.

Terry D. Gargac, 35, of 4012 Laura Drive, was charged with the two offenses following a disturbance at the same address.

The Pontoon Beach dispatcher on duty at the time received an anonymous phone call at 7:45 a.m. Monday informing them of the disturbance. Gargac and Linda Lindsey exchanged words and Gargac resisted police when asked to leave, the report said.

Venice-Lincoln students hear of job possibilities

"Future Job Possibilities" was the topic of an all-school assembly at Venice-Lincoln Technical Center Monday, featuring Mark Crismon, industrial relations specialist with the Illinois Job Service, and Gary R. Schneider, editor of the Granite City Press-Record.

Crismon discussed the role of the Job Service and how it can help graduates of the technical center find jobs. Special opportunities exist for veterans and for those with handicaps, he said.

Schneider discussed the slow, but steady, growth of employment in the Quad-City area and commented that the levels of employment seen in the past at large industries here are not likely to recur with the use of computers, robotics and modern technology.

Instead, most future job growth will come from smaller service industries, metals processing facilities and a wide range of small businesses, he predicted.

Nearly 150 students were present for the assembly and an active question-and-answer session with the speakers followed the talks.

New commission to spur Venice development envisioned

By VALERIE EVENDEN
of the Press-Record

An Economic Development Commission shortly will be established in the city of Venice for the first time, it was announced by Mayor Tyrone Echols at Tuesday night's meeting of the Venice City Council.

Selected from the local business community, the commissioners will be appointed by the mayor and charged with formulating plans to spur economic growth in the community, among other tasks.

DEVELOPMENT OF VENICE'S Kerr Island area also may be in the community's future, but any disclosure of ideas on what is to be accomplished through this proposal still is sometime off, at least at this stage, it was learned.

Announcement of the new commission was applauded by Madison County Board Member Don Garrett, who reviewed several county proposals that could affect Venice residents.

OF MAJOR IMPORTANCE to Venice could be a new source of funds to aid development in the community, Garrett said.

The funds could become available through a new authority being considered by the Madison County Board, which is expected to take action on the proposal at its March 20 meeting.

Garrett explained to the Venice aldermen and residents attending the council session that "the county board is setting up a Madison County Civic Center Authority through which state funds could be funneled to local communities."

Such a civic center authority would have independent and continuing powers to receive applications and submit those applications to the state for capital projects, it was learned.

"STATE FUNDS have been set aside from the race tracks and nearly $70 million already have been spent to finance cultural projects, such as arts and recreational buildings," Garrett said.

Through similar funding opportunities, Collinsville has applied for a grant to construct a convention center and Edwardsville is planning to remodel the Wiley Theatre at a cost of $400,000, he reported.

"You, as a community, have to raise 20 percent of the cost of any project...if something is going to cost $500,000 then the local community pays $100,000 and the state provides $400,000," Garrett explained.

"VENICE MAY WISH to develop the Kerr Island area by using some of that money," he proposed.

"The governor talks about renewing the state and its infrastructure and is about to raise taxes, either on cigarettes or some other way. I think we should get something going through the legislature for the completion of Route 3," Garrett said. "That highway is supposed to go through Venice to East St. Louis and its completion is necessary for the development of Kerr Island," he added.

"EVERYBODY ELSE is making plans to use this money and I think we should too. The McKinley Bridge as a prime trafficway here."

"If we could get the governor to put some money into the repair and improvement of the bridge, it would help. This administration may like to put some thought in to these matters," Garrett suggested.

Mayor Echols expressed appreciation to Garrett for his information, stating "We are glad to have some thoughts about Kerr Island."

About the McKinley Bridge, the mayor commented, "I do know that the Federal Government drives a hard bargain on bridges. If they do anything for you, they expect to own it."

"THAT BRIDGE is probably the most structurally sound bridge crossing the Mississippi River, but people look at it and get alarmed. The bridge approaches need some work and it needs some cosmetic surgery. About $300,000 would certainly help," he added.

The mayor noted an SIUE task force is studying that area of development and said a workable plan may be close to completion.

Township cannot solve most drainage problems—Sparks

By DONNA KIMBRIO
of the Press-Record

The drainage problems that continuously plague Chouteau Township residents was brought to the attention of the Board of Trustees by resident Thomas Roach at the board's regular meeting Monday night.

Roach addressed the board after his business session and asked Supervisor Walter "Dick" Sparks why there has not been any answer to his query on eliminating the water standing in his yard.

SPARKS RESPONDED by saying, "I cannot help you because I have no jurisdiction over the highway commissioner's work and, if he cannot do anything about the situation, your only recourse is to contact Madison County superintendent of highways for help."

In the heated debate that followed, Roach said he pays taxes in the township and he is not an "errand boy" for any official. He felt that the supervisor should be the one to contact if anyone could solve the problem. Sparks again restated his reasons and said that if he resided in that area he would be on the property and he would be on the property.

The Roach property is of Cote Brilliant just west of St. Thomas Road. Apparently some of the standing water is due to the drainage from Highway 3 (a state highway project) and also from a man-made pond near his land.

THE RETIRING highway commissioner, Wilfred "Bud" Eberhart, told Roach that when the water subsides and the roads are passable, he will send men there to clean out the culverts and bring in heavy equipment to create a ditch for the water to drain.

In checking on the legality of the township or state highway department performing such work, Sparks said the township can only drain water that is covering or threatening township roads. If township employees need to work in a field, they must have the permission of the owners first.

The township highway commissioner has no authority to interfere with the state highway department's area.

THEREFORE, in his opinion, the people must form a committee to take their problems to the Metro-East Sanitary District first and, if that does not prove satisfactory, they can proceed to the Madison County superintendent of highways.

Patricia Polley, township clerk, emphasized the need for all people who experience water problems to band together and seek help from these agencies, as well as contact the Corps of Engineers in an effort to have pumping stations located where the highest water problems exist and, in this way, find a solution to the constant drainage problems in the Mitchell area.

Management changes at Southwestern cable

William W. Rougely has been named the new general manager of Southwestern Cable TV, Ltd. He will replace Lon Carruth, former general manager of the cable company, who will be moved back to First Carolina Communications, Inc., operations on the east coast.

Carruth has been with Southwestern Cable since May of 1984.

THE CHANGE in management was announced by Carruth Tuesday, at a press conference in the cable company's Maryville office.

Rougely has served in several management positions with Group W Cable TV in both the Bridgeport and Kirkwood, Mo., systems. He joined Group W Cable in April of 1982.

A native of St. Louis, Mo., Rougely attended Jefferson County schools and received a bachelor of science degree in secondary education from Southeast Missouri State University in 1970. Following graduation, he served in the U.S. Navy, where his overseas duty stations included the Philippines and Vietnam.

FROM 1974 TO 1982, Rougely served as district executive for the St. Louis Area Council of Boy Scouts of America. In 1978 he was honored for his sales management skills as an inductee of the "Order of the Blue Vase."

Rougely is active in numerous trade and civic associations in St. Louis and its surrounding municipalities. He and his wife, the former Claudia Knechel, have two daughters, Amy and Sara.

During the press conference Carruth said he thinks he has accomplished "95 percent" of what he set out to do at Southwestern Cable during the past 10 months. He said his goal was to get the company on "solid footing" as far as operation is concerned.

ACCORDING TO Carruth, during his time as general manager, there has been a 25 percent increase in the number of subscribers to cable. He said that of that increase, about 30 percent came as a result of additional service areas being added. Carruth said he is looking forward to returning to the east, since he is a native of Kingston, N.C. He said, however, that his stay in the Midwest has been a good experience. "This is one of the finer cable staffs I have worked with—and I know, because I've worked at four different cable offices," he said.

Carruth also announced that Mary Hilbrand, head of marketing for the company, Thursday, Carruth said the dismissal was necessary because of the elimination of Mrs. Hilbrand's position with the company.

CARRUTH said the company is adopting a "centralization" of its marketing endeavors, whereby an in-house direct selling team would handle the marketing and report their findings to the director of sales in the main office.

Carruth termed Mrs. Hilbrand's dismissal as "unfortunate" and said she was a "good employee. The decision was made—as unpalatable as it is assistance to me when I first arrived, here was invaluable."

Carruth said the decision was made last Thursday. Mrs. Hilbrand had been with the company for six years.

CLIENTS ASK ABOUT PRE-ARRANGED FUNERALS AND PRE-FINANCING FOR FUTURE RECIPIENTS OF ILLINOIS PUBLIC AID

Today, almost fifty percent of all nursing home residents are clients of the Illinois Department of Public Aid or may soon become clients.

They and their families regularly express interest in making funeral arrangements. This is a valid concern. Properly coordinated, pre-financed funeral arrangements can assure an individual that funeral funds can be available for himself or his loved ones.

Failure to make arrangements in advance of applying for Public Aid assistance is frequently an innocent oversight by the individual or those who care for him or her. The result can be that personal funds allowed for the funeral are limited to $1,500, whereas with advance coordination with the funeral director, an individual or his family or conservator can readily provide for a funeral of his or her choice, up to $3,000.

If you, a relative or a friend are in circumstances that may ultimately lead you or him to becoming a client, it is important that you know your options in selecting funeral services and merchandise in advance of need and PRIOR to applying for Illinois Public Aid.

Cable TV to offer premium channel

In a press-conference Tuesday, Lon Carruth, former general manager of South-Western Cable TV Ltd., announced that the company will offer subscribers a new pay station beginning in April. This station will be offered because of the March 31 cancellation of Sports Time.

Carruth said the cable company has not yet determined what the new station will be, but he did say that Cinemax and the Home Theater Network are both under serious consideration.

The former general manager said he was surprised that the sports channel was cancelled "so soon. Everyone thought it would make it until November-through the Cardinal baseball season," he commented.

Carruth said that about 870 South-Western Cable subscribers are currently paying for Sports Time. He said he had expected to pick up about 400 more subscribers to the station for the baseball season.

"Because of the station loss, he said the company is also considering getting a different regional sports channel. "I realize that only a minority of our customers were getting Sports Time, but I think these people have proven that there is a desire to have sports programming on cable," he said.

Carruth said the announcement of the new premium channel should be made to subscribers by March 15.

MESD approves bid for Cahokia plant renovation

By SUSANNE INDELICATO
of the Press-Record

The Metro-East Sanitary District (MESD) Board has approved bid of $30,883 to renovate the Cahokia Sewage Treatment Plant. The bid, submitted by Ace Pipe Cleaning, Inc., of Kansas City, was the lower of two received, and was approved by board members Wednesday morning.

The original bid submitted to the district last January totaled $34,127, but MESD officials subtracted the cost of installing a bar screen because Sauget Regional Plant officials have already performed the work.

AN AGREEMENT to turn the operation of the Cahokia plant over to Sauget was made about a year ago, according to MESD Executive Director Walter "Shang" Greathouse. The agreement allows Sauget to take over ownership of the plant, free of charge, whenever Sauget officials desire. These officials have set a target date of 1985.

Sauget officials plan to incorporate the plants into a $100 million sewage treatment system being constructed there. In anticipation, they have participated in renovating the plant by installing the bar screen.

MESD officials opened bids for the plant renovations in January, but postponed awarding the bid until they could determine how much of the renovation work would be performed by Sauget officials.

ACE PIPE Cleaning, Inc., also was contracted to renovate the Lansdowne Sewage Treatment Plant. Greathouse told the MESD board that the contractors have not completed the renovations at the Lansdowne plant by the today's deadline. According to the agreement, the work was to be completed 60 days after Ace Pipe Cleaning was contracted.

The Environmental Protection Agency ordered MESD last May to clean, repair and maintain certain parts and equipment at the two plants after an engineer's report indicated that the plants needed renovation before the MESD joins a regional sewage treatment system in 1986.

The Cahokia and Lansdowne plants provide primary sewage treatment, while the regional plant will provide secondary treatment.

200-donation goal set for blood drive

To help meet the blood needs of hospitalized patients, Tri-City residents are urged to donate blood on Wednesday, March 13, and Thursday, March 14. A Red Cross blood drive sponsored by the Tri-City P.T.A. will be set up at Brown Recreation Center, Franklin Avenue and Pontoon Road, between 2 and 7 p.m. both days. The drive's goal is 200 donations.

Red Cross is working with communities like the Tri-City area to provide blood for patients in need. Every day, 1,000 units of blood must be collected to meet the needs of patients in 140 hospitals in 80 counties in Missouri and Illinois.

"Blood is needed throughout the year," said spokesman Lynn Votoupal. "We can help meet those needs by giving blood at this drive. Reaching our goal is extremely important. If we fall short, chances are Red Cross will too."

"Nearly every healthy citizen can donate blood as long as they weigh at least 105 pounds and are between the ages of 17 and 66," Mrs. Votoupal said. "Unfortunately, a low percentage of the population actually donates."

She added that there is an expression that best describes the importance of giving blood: "Blood is like a parachute," she said. "If it's not there when you need it, chances are you'll never need it again."

Chouteau Township

Ambulances an issue in race for Chouteau supervisor

Walter 'Dick' Sparks

Incumbent candidate for the office of supervisor of Chouteau Township, Walter "Dick" Sparks, is on the slate of the Honesty-Dependable & Qualified party ticket in the April 2 election.

He has 28 years of experience in government, serving as town clerk, county board member and supervisor.

"I have been associated with most beneficial social projects in the Mitchell area since 1947 and was a member of the Mitchell School Board when the new addition and gymnasium were built."

"During my term as supervisor we have purchased seven acres of property located at 607A R.H.2 N. Thorngate Drive, where we built a highway garage, office spaces and social center large enough to accommodate the needs of the people in Chouteau Township. All these improvements were paid for with federal revenue sharing and community development funds acquired by many hours of hard work by township officials and community development citizen committee, at no extra expense to the taxpayers. We have instituted the mosquito control program, equipped with the latest type of equipment which is all paid for."

He continued, "At the present time we have two very important street drainage contracts underway. I would like very much to continue on as supervisor and chief executive officer to see that they are completed as I have planned."

Sparks has lived at 613 English Place in Mitchell since 1947. He retired from his business in 1979 to devote full time to the job of supervisor.

He and his wife, Hazel, attend the Mitchell Presbyterian Church and are members of the Chouteau Township Senior Citizens organization. He is a past master of Masonic Lodge 99 of Edwardsville, the Mississippi Valley Consistory and Township and County Officials of Illinois.

The candidate is a former member of United Plumbers and Steamfitters Association and International Brotherhood of Teachers. He has honorable withdrawal cards from each of the unions and is a certified insecticide applicator for mosquito control. He also is a member of the Lewis and Clark Historical Society.

Morris Miles

A candidate for Chouteau Township Supervisor, Morris W. Miles, 50, of 118 Kinder Lane, is employed as manager of Pepsi Cola Co. He is a 16-year member of the Madison County Board and has been a Democrat precinct committeeman for 10 years.

Born in Stewart County, Tenn., Miles has resided in the area for 30 years. He graduated from Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville, where he studied industrial management, and earned a bachelor's marketing degree from the Pepsi Cola Management Institute.

Miles is of the Protestant faith and is a U.S. Army veteran. He and his wife Joann have been married 27 years. They are the parents of two children, Jennifer Bolt and Morris Wayne Miles Jr.

"I am a candidate for supervisor of Chouteau Township because now more than ever we need solid managerial experience in government to make sure that our citizens get the best possible return on their tax dollars in terms of services," Miles said.

"After I am elected, the people of this area will have ambulance service, shuttle bus service, and we will work to improve drainage in all areas, our citizens will not stand outside their township hall in the cold and rain to receive their commodities. It is our building we will use it. I will not waste your tax dollars like paying a tax collector full salary when he did not collect one cent in 1984. I will make sure that your tax dollars are used with the highest degree of efficiency and fairness," Morris added.

"He consumed," my involvement in community activities in the Mitchell area include past member of Mitchell Athletic Club, past member and president of Mitchell Volunteer Fire Department, chairman of Chouteau Township Precinct Committee and past member of the Madison County Central Committee and executive board."

Also, he is serving Chouteau Township as a Madison County Board member, on the Health Institutions Committee, Personnel Committee, Environmental Control Committee, Service Area 1 committee and vice-chairman of the Madison County Board.

In conclusion Morris said, "I have had many rewarding challenges and I promise to continue to serve the needs of this community, responding to the problems of Chouteau Township. To me, this is home, a good place to live, to grow, to feel safe, a place where a person can have a small piece of the American Dream."

Granite City

Two candidates contend for Third Ward alderman

The April 2 race for the Third Ward aldermanic position in Granite City is being sought by two candidates. Incumbent Carl J. Kittel will be challenged by Brett L. Hanke.

Carl J. Kittel

Seeking re-election to his second term will be Carl Kittel, 52, of 2201 State St. He was born in Venice, Ill., but has resided in Granite City the past 25 years.

Kittel is employed as a probation officer for Madison County. He previously was a court reporter.

He attended local schools and is a graduate of Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville, where he earned a bachelor of science degree in sociology and human services.

Kittel is a Fourth Degree Knight in the Knights of Columbus Tri-City Council 1888 and is a member of St. Joseph's Catholic Church.

He is a former Cubmaster with the Boys Scouts of America, a former president of the St. Joseph Parent Teacher Association, past president of the Downtown Restoration Society, served on the board of directors of Catholic Charities from 1976 to 1980, where he was president of the board for two years, and served on the board of directors at the Alpha Center for four years.

Kittel said he would like to see a revitalization of the inner city here since the economy is in an upswing. "I would also like to see the city bring the sewer treatment plant on line in a regional concept and promote a long term plan for the maintenance of sewers," he said. "I believe the 1980 study by Sverdrup and Parcel mentioned the televising of sewer lines and grouting out of sewage sand may have prevented some sewer breaks."

Kittel is the father of three children—Brittany, Jeffrey and Camille. He is divorced.

Brett L. Hanke

Opposing Kittel in the April election is Brett L. Hanke, 34, a five-year resident of Granite City. He is a former resident of St. Louis.

Hanke is employed as a construction worker at the Saugee Treatment Plant. He was previously employed as a post engineer at the Granite City Army Depot, was a construction manager for Booker Associates, who did reconstruction work at St. Louis Lambert Airport, and was a former owner of his own engineering firm.

Hanke attended Kirkwood High School and received a bachelor of science degree in civil engineering from the University of Missouri-Rolla. He also received a master of science degree in engineering management from the university.

He is a member of the administrative board at Niedringhaus United Methodist Church and is a Sunday school teacher there.

He also is a member of the Chi Epsilon Honor Society for Civil Engineers, the Kappa Alpha Order Fraternity, treasurer of the Downtown Restoration Society and company commander of a National Guard Engineering Unit.

"The issues most important to me deal with restoring the downtown area," he said. "They include projecting a positive image of Granite City throughout the St. Louis area, seeking grants to improve streets, sewers and the downtown appearance, and attracting downtown developments. Also of importance are sound fiscal and well-managed city government."

Hanke, his wife, Anna, and his 5-year-old son Joseph, reside at 2145 Cleveland Blvd.

Pontoon Beach

Independent opposes incumbent in race for village president

Incumbent Glen R. Wilson, a member of the Village Improvement Party, is being challenged by independent candidate Mary E. Warren, the current village clerk, in the April 2 race for Pontoon Beach Village Board president.

Glen R. Wilson

Appointed to his current position of Pontoon Beach Village Board president last August, Glen R. Wilson now is seeking election to the post as part of the Village Improvement Party, which includes a slate of four trustee candidates.

Wilson, 51, of 15 Victoria Dr., says that, if elected, he hopes to expand the village boundaries in order to bring more business and jobs to Pontoon Beach citizens.

Before his appointment to the village board presidency, Wilson served as a village board trustee for six years. Prior to that, he served Pontoon Beach as its building inspector for two years and health officer for four years. From 1971 to 1979, he was a volunteer fireman with the Long Lake Volunteer Fire Department.

A graduate of Granite City High School, Wilson is employed as a crew leader with Conalco. He has been a Pontoon Beach resident 14 years. He and his wife, Robbie, have five children and six grandchildren.

Mary E. Warren

Challenging Wilson in the race for Pontoon Beach Village Board president is Village Clerk Mary E. Warren, Mrs. Warren, 44, of 25 Tulip Ave., is running as an independent candidate.

Elected to her post as village clerk in 1975, Mrs. Warren says she has been active in local politics for 20 years.

"In the past 10 years as clerk of the village of Pontoon Beach, I have seen the growing need for a full-time board president," she commented. "The availability of the president on a day-to-day basis will provide for better representation for all residents of our community. I am very proud of our community. We have a fine police department and have the opportunity to become bigger and better in all areas of our government."

A lifetime resident of Pontoon Beach, Mrs. Warren graduated from Granite City High School. She is a member of St. Elizabeth Catholic Church. She and her husband, Gerald, have a 24-year-old daughter, Lori Anne.

Nameoki Township

Two square off in supervisor's race

Nameoki Township Supervisor Harry A. Briggs is being challenged in his bid for re-election by Township Trustee Helen M. Hawkins on April 2.

Harry A. Briggs

As Nameoki Township supervisor from 1955 to 1971 and again since 1981, Harry A. Briggs is seeking re-election with the hope of providing and upgrading drainage systems in areas where community development funds can be used. Briggs also pledges to work with the Metro-East Sanitary District to provide drainage to other areas and to seek sanitary sewers where needed. Maintaining financial stability in the township is another of Briggs' goals. Briggs, 64, of 4263 Lake Drive, was born in Tulsa, Okla., but has lived in the township for 62 years. In addition to his experience as supervisor, he served on the Madison County Board from 1955 to 1971 and is a past-president of the Southwestern Illinois Metropolitan and Regional Planning Commission.

A graduate of Granite City High School, Briggs is self-employed. He is a member of Masonic Lodge 835, Scottish Rite Bodies and the Almad Shrine Temple. He is of the Protestant faith. He and his wife, Pauline, have three children.

Challenging Briggs in the

township supervisor's race is Trustee Helen M. Hawkins, 55, of 2600 Angela Drive. Mrs. Hawkins has served one term as trustee.

Mrs. Hawkins says she feels one of the main campaign issues is the elimination of the township collector. She pledges that she will not fund a local tax collection system. In addition, she plans to keep meetings open to the public for citizen involvement and to stop the "shuffling of funds from one account to another."

"Calling on the telephone for votes prior to the meetings shall end when I am elected supervisor," she adds.

A 20-year resident of the township, Mrs. Hawkins is employed as a supervisor at a Famous Barr Department Store. She has served as a Democratic precinct committeeman for six terms and is a past recipient of two certificates of appreciation to a private citizen from the Nameoki Township government.

Mrs. Hawkins is a member of the Catholic faith and a past volunteer worker with crippled children. She also belongs to the Quad-City Church Women United organization and American Legion Post 1113. She is married to local optometrist Dr. Hubert A. Hawkins, and the couple have two children.

For Regional Title Warriors shellack Shells; rematch with Kahoks

Old Rivals, Conference Co-Champs

By ALAN L. GERSTENECKER
Sports Editor
of the Press-Record

EDWARDSVILLE — During practice Monday, in preparation for Tuesday's first-round regional contest against Roxana, Granite City High School basketball coach Don Deterding knew his major concern was not a victory — that was virtually assured — but rather how to enthrall his team about the game.

The Warriors, the top seeded team in the regional, had already beaten the fourth seeded Roxana Shells once this season, an 84-38 whalloping on Jan. 12.

THE 48-POINT Warrior victory was their easiest and most one-sided of the season. So it's understandable why the Warriors would take the Shells lightly.

And they did for a half, until Deterding set a half-time spark under his squad which went on to whip the Shells 72-53. With the win the Warriors earned the right to meet Collinsville, the other semifinal winner, at 7:30 p.m. Friday in Joe Lucco Gymnasium.

The Kahoks, the tournament's second seed, earned that right by posting a 70-37 victory over third-seeded Edwardsville in the game that followed the Warrior-Shell matchup.

"I talked to them at halftime. I was hoping they wouldn't be flat for this game, but I would bet all the money I have that they would," Deterding said.

"We've just got too many horses to play their (Roxana's) game. I knew that would be a problem, so I really didn't try to get them up for this game."

In addition to the mismatched talent, Deterding cited the Warriors' conference-clinching victory over Alton three days before as a reason for the Warriors' lackadaisical play the first half.

"They're still living in Saturday night's glory, their conference championship. But they're starting to come out of it now. I was proud of the way they responded in the third quarter," Deterding said.

AN YES, the Warriors' third quarter.

With it, Granite City pulled away from the 33-27 half-time score. It was a period where not only the Warriors' offense displayed its brilliance, but one where the Shells stalled.

During the third quarter, the Warriors rallied for 21 points. Jeff Gray, the Warriors' 6-foot 2-inch senior sharpshooting guard, tallied Granite City's first points of the second half just 10 seconds into the third quarter. It was one of his patented looping jumpers. The Warrior star would go on to lead the Warriors with 21 points.

THEN, slightly more than a minute later, Gray did it again. A 10 footer which improved the Warrior lead to 10, 37-27.

The Granite City barrage continued. Six-foot 5-inch senior forward Scott Cant scored. As did 6-foot 3-inch senior forward Kurt Hylla and 5-foot 10-inch junior guard Joe Gray.

The Warriors scored 15 consecutive, unanswered points before Roxana's Ben Lagonarino picked up the Shells' first third-quarter points. Lagonarino, who led all scorers with 24 points, tallied the bucket with 2:49 remaining in the third stanza.

"THEY hit everything in the gymnasium that third quarter," said first-year Roxana coach Charlie Raich. "Their shooting percentage was something awfully good. They got on a roll and we got cold. Granite City is just a fine-shooting ball club," Raich said.

Raich, who has coached the Shells' football team for 21 years, joked about the differences of coaching football and basketball.

"By halftime tonight I was looking up in the press box for my assistant coach with the headset, and he wasn't there," Raich said in a helpless tone.

"They're still in quite a bit different than football. In football there's time to adjust. In basketball everything happens so fast that you can get behind in a hurry without realizing it, sort of like what happened tonight," Raich said.

BY THE end of the third quarter, the Warriors held a comfortable 54-33 lead. But they weren't about to quit there.

When the fourth quarter began Hylla tipped in Jeff Gray's shot to improve the Warrior lead to 23, 56-33.

It was then that Deterding began his substitutions. Hylla, 5-foot 7-inch sophomore Tim Hogan, 6-foot 4-inch senior Jerry Paul and the Gray brothers were the Warrior five, but even that changed in little time.

In time the Gray brothers were replaced by the Hogan twins as 5-foot 8-inch sophomore Jamie Hogan joined the lineup as did 6-foot 2-inch sophomore Tom Taylor.

BY GAME'S end, every Warrior had found his way into the game and nine found their way to tally points.

As Deterding leaned on the wall of the Warriors' lockerroom afterwards his displeasure with his team's first half performance showed.

"It wasn't a very picturesque win and I never had any doubts, but honestly I think the kids may be looking towards Collinsville. That's the one they really want."

In his assessment of the game, Deterding — as usual — finds the silver lining to the cloud.

"Jerry Paul played a heckuva ball game, probably his best of the year. He's one of those guys who always gives us 100 percent," Deterding said.

And that's just what the Warriors will need Friday — 100 percent.

The win improves the Warriors' record to 17-5 while the Roxana closed the season with an 8-14 mark.

GRANITE CITY 14 19 21 54

ROXANA (53): Wilford 4-2-10, Huggins 1-0-2, Hinkle 2-2-4, Hinkle 3-2-5, Lagonarino 12-0-1-24, Gray 1-0-2, FG 23, FT 9, PF 13.

GRANITE CITY (72): Jeff Gray 10-14-21, Joe Gray 4-0-8, Stevenson 2-3-8, Cant 4-3-3, Hylla 0-0-0, Paul 1-0-2, Hogan 2-2-4, T. Hogan 3-0-6, Huggins 1-0-2, FG 31, FT 10-14, PF 12.

Gray said. "It was probably one of our worst games of the season. I think most of us wanted a rematch as soon as it was over. We've got something to prove. Everybody's going to be fired up for that one."

For the most part, it wasn't a very fired up Warrior team which had just beaten Roxana, at least not for the first half anyway.

AND GRAY had an answer for that one, too.

"We had beaten them so bad the first time that I think we had trouble getting up for them tonight," Gray said. "No one, I think, was really up for this one."

Things will be quite different Friday night, however. Gray will be for sure and he's over what he termed his "slump." Last time both teams met, Gilley, as Gray's called by his friends, was in the midst of a scoring slump — a time when he felt he lost his "touch."

"I think my shots are finally coming back now," Gray said. "It's funny, I know what I was doing wrong, but I just couldn't overcome it."

EXPLAINING, Gray said he wasn't setting up his shots in a consistent manner when he was going through his slump.

Positioning his hands as if he were holding a basketball in his jump-shot position, Gray said when he was in the midst of his slump, he was holding the ball in front of his face. Usually he launches the ball more from his shoulder.

"That and I think I was bending my elbow," Gray said. "But I feel like it's coming back now."

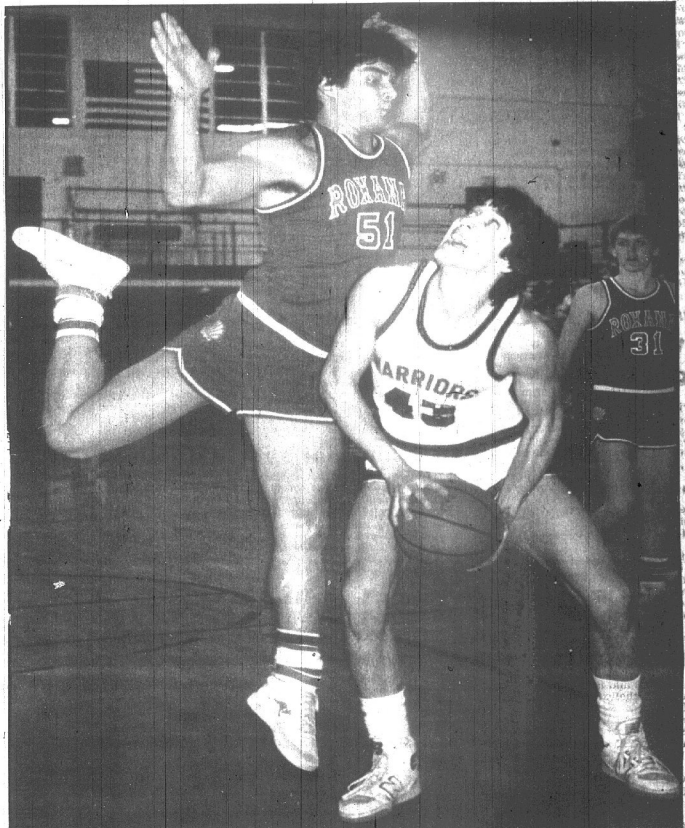

Evidently, Gray's prowess and his pumping jump shot has impressed more than just Granite City fans and SWC opponents. Earlier this week, Gray was selected as an honorable mention to the Associated Press' Class AA All-State Prep Basketball Team. There were no SWC players selected to the team, but Alton's Larry Smith was also named an honorable mention.

"A Kahok rematch?" Gray said now talking on his way out of the lockerroom. "I'll be there."

Friday. This is the second weekend of competition for some of the competitors.

Mendoza, a two-time Gloves champion, will battle Frank Hawkins of the Matthews-Dickey Boys' Club in their 165-pound open division fight. The winner of Friday night's bout will meet the winner of the other quarter-final bout Saturday night in the final.

Boxing enthusiasts speculate the winner of the Matthews-Dickey bout will square off against William Guthrie of Pop Mills' Boxing Club of East St. Louis. Guthrie is currently rated the top flyer in his weight class in the country.

PERFECT FORM. Roxana's Jim Habbe displays perfect ballet-like form as he tries to avoid fouling Granite City High School's Jerry Paul during the second half of Tuesday night's Edwardsville Class AA Regional. The Warriors won the contest and will meet the Collinsville Kahoks Friday night for the regional basketball championship.

With Kahoks Gunnin' 'Gilley' anxious for matchup

EDWARDSVILLE — The Warriors had just moments ago defeated Roxana and earned the right to play either Edwardsville or Collinsville for the Edwardsville Class AA Regional championship.

Jeff Gray, the Warriors' leading scorer this season, was one of the last ones out of the lockerroom. He was taking his time in leaving. Silent, he was thinking when the reporter walked up.

"We really don't know for sure yet, but how would you feel about playing Collinsville for the regional championship?" Gray was asked.

Gray paused for a moment, turned and picked up his gym shoes from the bench, pivoted and then placed them in his gym bag.

Then he looked straight at the reporter and grinned from ear to ear. Not a little sheepish grin, but a BIG grin. The kind that show teeth before growing into a full-fledged smile.

"I'd love it," Gray finally said. "I think about playing them again all the time," said the Warriors' 6-foot 2-inch senior guard.

"Southwestern Conference co-champions, rivals of the worst kind. It should be a good game. I'm looking forward to it," Gray said as if reading aloud some pre-game hype. "I hope they beat Edwardsville."

WHY WOULD Gray suddenly become a Kahok well-wisher?

The answer is as clear and predictable as the Warrior victory was just moments before.

"We should've won that last game with them."

Meet Vandalia For Title Trojans tame Panthers

By JAMES BLASINGAME
of the Press-Record

VANDALIA — After the regional, it's the gray time of the season for the Trojans. Those were the words of Madison High School basketball coach Rodney Watson on Tuesday night.

Moments earlier, Watson's Trojans had completed their march over the Litchfield Panthers 69-48 in the first game of the Vandalia Sectional of the Illinois High School Association Class A Basketball Tournament. And now the Madison coach was savoring just a taste of the gravy, after a season of filling, but unbalanced ball games.

WATSON, in his first year at the Trojan helm, has led Madison to the Regional title, while compiling a respectable 20-7 record. But the Trojans had been erratic early in the year, and it wasn't until after the Litchfield Mid-Winter Tournament that the Trojans began to play up to Watson's standards.

"We did some soul-searching and decided it was time to knuckle down," Watson explained. "Since the Litchfield tournament, our practices have been more intense and more serious. They say that 'practice makes perfect,' but I don't buy that. Practice makes permanent."

IF THERE is one part of the Trojans' game that has been permanent all season long, it is the play of six-foot four-inch senior center Reggie Banks.

Banks canned eight field goals, most of them turnaround jumpers from the 12-foot range, and was a perfect five-for-five from the free throw line for 21 points.

"I knew Banks was good along the baseline, but I didn't know he was that good of a shooter," said Litchfield coach Don Gursch. "They're (Madison) shooting a heckuva lot better than they were in our tournament. I was surprised at how well they did."

BANKS wasn't the only Trojan hitting from the field. Guards Anthony Newson, Anthony Valentine, and Deloy Williams all took turns launching shots over the 2-3 Panther zone, while power forward James Bennett worked in the paint for offensive rebound buckets.

Madison broke a 4-4 deadlock midway through the first quarter. Bennett's five-footer, rolled over the front rim, and the Trojans scored the final 10 points of the period, while frustrating the Panthers on offense.

Full-court defensive pressure and a switching man-to-man kept Litchfield's big gun, senior forward Brian Horst, in check for the first three quarters. And according to Gursch, none of the other Panthers could pick up the slack.

WE WERE a little timid early. We had a couple guys get 15-footers, and instead of taking it, they'd pass it up," Gursch said. "Horst did all he can do. Nobody else wanted to shoot."

"They (Madison) had six or seven guys that scored," Gursch continued. "You have to have that supporting cast."

At times, the Panthers needed a cast of six or seven guys to get the ball upcourt against Madison's ball-hawking press. Williams, Newson and Valentine harassed and pick-pocketed Litchfield guards throughout the contest.

"It (Madison's) defensive pressure bothered us a lot more than I thought it would," said Gursch. THE TROJANS led 32-17 at the half. Litchfield closed to within nine points at the 5:24 mark of the third period, but a timeout by Watson got Madison back on track. The Trojans finished the third quarter with a 13-point spread, before their final 69-48 margin.

THE TROJANS led the Trojans with 21 points. Williams scored 12, Newson 10, and Bennett and Valentine added nine apiece. Horst netted 19 for Litchfield.

"We played all phases," said Watson. "Shooting, defense, taking care of the ball. We're going to start playing consistently."

"I feel like Big Mo' — Uncle Mo' as Dick Vitale would say — is on our side."

HOW FAR can the Trojans go? "We take 'em one at a time," smiled Watson. "Right now, we can get to Friday (the sectional championship)."

The first-year Trojan coach faced a difficult task in stepping into the vacancy left by his predecessor, Larry Graham. But Watson and the Trojans have proven that there is "Life after Larry."

A victory on Friday over the winner of last night's Vandalia-Westland matchup, will mean a sectional title for Madison. And the Trojans could be peaking at the critical time in the year.

But win or lose, Watson and his team have earned their potatoes this season.

So pass the gravy.

TOURNAMENT NOTE: In other semifinal round action of the Vandalia Sectional, Vandalia scored a 67-65 double overtime victory over Trenton Wednesday night and have earned the right to meet the Trojans in Friday night's sectional championship game. Game time is 7:30 p.m.

Rebuilding Football Winter workout: A 'weighty' program for Warrior gridders

By ALAN L. GERSTENECKER
Sports Editor
of the Press-Record

GRANITE CITY — When Ron Yates agreed last summer to accept the head football coach's position at Granite City High School he knew he had his work cut out for him.

The Warriors' respectability on the football field had begun to slip in the last decade and Yates knew it. He faced not only the challenge of being a new coach, but rebuilding a program that hadn't been winning.

To turn the Warrior football program around Yates knew more had to be done than a single football season allows. A former Warrior grider himself, he knew it meant work in the off-season.

SO LESS than a month after his Warriors closed their season, Yates began laying foundation for his next season, the fall '85 campaign.

He began a weight-training program exclusively for football players.

The Warriors held their own with most of their rivals during Yates' first year as head coach, but the Warrior coach felt like his Warriors still lost some ball games that they shouldn't have. "Conditioning," Yates is quoted as saying after one close loss, "may have made a difference. If we were better conditioned we may have won this one," Yates said.

SURE, Yates was referring to the effects that a district-wide teachers' strike had on his athletes and their inability to practice with pads or his leadership, but still, the same he felt they could have been better conditioned.

Thus the weight-training program.

Last Nov. 26, the first day of the training, there were about 60 persons who attended. Working out twice a week — on Mondays and Thursdays — the group utilized the weight-training room and the "Universal" weight machines on the balcony of Memorial Gymnasium.

LIKE anything after the first week, the numbers of participants dropped off somewhat. But by the third week, the number of athletes had stabilized at 40.

Yates, with the help of Rob Stegemeier the Warriors' defensive coordinator, managed to instruct the athletes in a "lift and rotate" process. Athletes were instructed to work on both the upper body and the lower body, but particularly the upper body.

"So many of our guys smaller than, say the kids from East St. Louis," Yates said. "To compete in a conference such as the Southwest, you've got to be big and strong. Where using weights used to be taboo, more and more teams are discovering the benefits of weight training," Yates said.

ALTHOUGH the athletes were instructed to do several lifts during their course of their workouts, Yates recorded only their bench, military and clean lifts. It was from those three lifts that Yates calculated his best lifters.

Snatching the best litter status for the juniors, next year's seniors, was Dave Tatum. Tatum, competing in the 165-185 division, lifted 190 pounds in the military press, 260 pounds on the bench press and 240 on the clean lift.

The other winner was Lance Jakich, a sophomore who recently transferred to Granite City from Edwardsville.

JAKICH, competing in the 135 to 155 weight division, lifted 125 on the military press, benched 205 and cleanly lifted 165 pounds.

For their commitment to the weight-training program and for their dedication for the twice-weekly off-season workouts, Yates presented both with an impressive weight-lifting trophy.

"They really deserved it," Yates said. "Both of them really worked hard."

Tatum and Jakich weren't the only people who worked hard and gave of themselves during the workout. It was all free grades for Yates. Football coaches don't get paid for coaching in the winter.

And as for the trophies, those came compliments of Yates, too. He paid for those.

"Sometimes you've got to put a little of yourself back into things to make them work," Yates said. Sometimes you do.

MAC summer sports signup

The temperature has begun to break the 50-degree mark so spring must be just around the corner. Another sure sign of spring's impending presence is the Mitchell Athletic Club's announcement of baseball and softball registrations.

Registration began on Monday and will continue through the next two Mondays. MAC will be registering both boys and girls for its summer leagues. Coming registration dates are Monday, March 11 and 18, from 6 to 8 p.m. at the Mitchell Elementary School Gymnasium.

To register, children must have their seventh birthday this year and they can be no older than 15 this year.

The fee for registering is $15 for the first child and $10 addition for each additional child in the same family.

Persons seeking further information should contact Myron Merz at 931-1218. Merz said the association is also seeking umpires for the summer leagues.

HEAVY LIFTERS. Dave Tatum (left) and Lance Jakich graduated as the best lifters during Warrior football coach Ron Yates' winter weight-training program which recently concluded. Yates is leading the seasonal sports training program to better prepare his football players for next season. A similar session this spring begins April 1.

Fish and Wildlife Service makes proposal for non-toxic shot areas

The Interior Department's U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service has proposed specific criteria that would be used as guidelines in determining areas where lead poisoning of waterfowl is a significant problem and hunters should be prohibited from using lead shot.

"In the past, the manner in which non-toxic shot zones were established has varied by region and state. The purpose of this proposal is to establish criteria that is uniform, scientifically determined, and practical to implement," according to Service Director Robert Jantzen.

The Service does not imply by this proposal that states with areas not meeting these criteria should be prohibited from requiring non-toxic shot. Individual states or flyways may determine for their own management purposes that the use of lead shot in waterfowl feeding areas should be prohibited. The Service will continue to honor the states' requests to establish non-toxic shot zones in areas not meeting minimum federal criteria.

The proposal includes "triggering" criteria for initial identification of areas where lead poisoning may be a problem, and "decision" criteria for determining whether these areas should be proposed for designation as non-toxic shot zones.

Counties or other areas would be identified under the triggering criteria if there is a harvest of 10 or more ducks or geese per square mile or three dead waterfowl diagnosed as having died from lead poisoning. Areas identified under these criteria would then be monitored to determine the incidence of lead shot in waterfowl gizzards and lead levels in the blood or livers of waterfowl.

Sample sizes of 100 birds would be required for these studies. The Fish and Wildlife Service has determined that some 466 counties nationwide — covering 67 percent of the U.S. waterfowl harvest — would meet the criteria of 10 waterfowl harvested per square mile. A portion of these counties, however, are already designated as non-toxic shot zones, and so would not need additional monitoring studies.

Areas that have been monitored would be proposed for designation as non-toxic shot zones if five percent or more of the gizzards examined contain one or more ingested lead shot and if either blood samples or the lead content of liver tissue indicate a lead poisoning problem.

For blood, lead poisoning would be indicated if 0.2 parts per million (ppm) lead are found in 5 percent or more of blood samples drawn from hunter-killed or live-trapped birds. Samples of liver tissue would indicate lead poisoning if 2 ppm lead are found in five percent or more of the liver tissues sampled (net weight).

Within 90 days of determining that a triggering criterion has been met in a specific area, States should advise the Service that monitoring studies will begin within one year.

If a state cannot meet that commitment, it should submit a monitoring schedule to the Service. This will allow States to establish priorities for conducting studies if they have a number of areas to monitor. States may also forego monitoring studies and ask the Service to propose non-toxic shot zones for any areas identified by the triggering criteria.

If the monitoring studies show that the decision criteria are not met, the area will be considered not to have a lead poisoning problem unless, at a later date, three or more dead waterfowl confirmed as lead poisoned are reported from the area.

Public comments on both the Service's proposed criteria and the flyway recommendations are invited and should be submitted by Feb. 22 to the director (FWS/MBM) U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service, Department of the Interior, Washington, D.C. 20240.

Deer Hunters

'Big buck' entries to be measured soon

SPRINGFIELD — Dates and locations for measuring antlers have been selected in the Big Buck Recognition Program. Persons who have submitted completed application forms will be notified by mail when and where they should take their deer for official measurement.

Persons who took qualifying bucks during the 1984 season have only a few weeks to return their applications, according to John Kube, forest game biologist who heads the Big Buck Recognition Program. Kube said the Department of Conservation also will now begin accepting applications for deer taken in Illinois between the years of 1987 and 1993. Persons taking deer during those years also will be notified by mail when and where their deer can be taken for measurement.

Application forms are available by writing: Department of Conservation, Big Buck Recognition Program, 524 S. Second St., Springfield, Ill. 62706.

Navy Mothers donate funds

Clara Layton, commander of the Quad-City Navy Mothers, Chapter 850, conducted a business meeting of the organization and led a discussion on donating funds to various groups. Members voted to send $100 to the VFW Post to be used for welfare, $50 to the Paralyzed Veterans, $50 to Danville Naval Hospital, and $25 to the POW-MIA fund. They also sent $300 to the Navy Mothers Club of America to be credited and returned to the local group for their welfare programs.

The chapter charter was draped during the meeting in memory of a member, Yelina Finney who died recently.

After the business segment games were played and prizes awarded to Edna Miller, Hazel Jones and Jean Francis. The mystery prize went to Marian Lipscomb and the special award to Jean Teller.

Hostesses Verna Spurrier and Alberta Ethington decorated the tables in a George Washington birthday motif featuring a red and white cloth. Favors were boutonnieres created with red cherries centered in netting handmade by Mary Korscos.

The March 14 meeting will be business and will convene at the VFW Hall, the commander noted.

Two face alcohol related charges

After seeing a vehicle parked facing the wrong way on the side of a street this week, an officer alleged a person got into the car with a beer, reports said.

David C. Catterson, 36, of 2318 Illinois Ave., later identified as the driver, accelerated the car in reverse, then stopped and drove forward, squealing and spinning tires and throwing dirt and gravel from behind the vehicle onto a walkway where pedestrians were present, the officer alleged.

The vehicle was halted at West 24th Street and Illinois Avenue, with officers alleging that a foamy liquid was observed running from the driver's door.

David Catterson was charged with an improper start (of a vehicle) in traffic and illegal transportation of alcohol.

A passenger, Larry W. Catterson, 25, of 2324 August St., was charged with illegal possession of alcohol. Both men were released the following day on notices to appear for hearings.

ATTEMPTS TO SNATCH PURSE FROM GC WOMAN

As Pam Rongey of Granite City was walking from the Tri-City Area YMCA to her car, parked near the City Hall in the 2000 block of Edison Avenue, a man grabbed at her purse, she told police during the weekend.

When she managed to hold on to the purse, the man gave up and ran north on Edison Avenue.

The assailant was described about 19 or 20 years old and 5 feet 10 inches or 5 feet 11 inches tall, with dark, greasy shoulder-length hair. He was wearing a baseball cap and blue jeans.

Founding of Seabees to be marked by dance March 16

Tuesday, March 5, marked the 43rd anniversary of the founding of the Navy's "Seabees." This event was designated by various civic leaders in the St. Louis metropolitan area and the states of Missouri and Illinois for the purpose of honoring citizens of those areas that have served or are serving presently in the Navy's "Seabees."

Mayor Vincent Schoemehl and County Executive Gene McNary designated March 5 as "Seabee Day" in the St. Louis metropolitan area, an honor also given by Governor Jim Thompson of the state of Illinois, Governor John Ashcroft of the state of Missouri, and Mayor Paul Schuler of Granite City.

Locally, members of Reserve Naval Construction Force Support Unit 4, based in Granite City, and composed largely of Missouri and Illinois residents in the St. Louis and Cape Girardeau areas, plan to celebrate the Seabee Birthday with the annual "Seabee Ball" on Saturday, March 16, at the NCO Club located at the Naval and Marine Corps Reserve Center in St. Louis.

The "Seabees," the better known euphemism for members of the Navy's Construction Battalions, were organized to fill the need for a naval construction force at the onset of World War II and, since that time, they have comprised a vital part of this nation's naval forces. Throughout World War II, the Korean War, the Vietnam conflict and in times of peace, Seabees have earned a reputation for construction under the worst possible conditions.

The hallmark of the Seabees is held in their "Can Do" motto. "The difficult we do at once, the impossible takes a little longer."

In 1947, the Seabees gained a partner with the establishment of the reserve Naval Mobile Construction Units. Since then, the Reserve Naval Construction Forces has grown and adapted to the changing needs and requirements of the Navy until it today provides 70 percent of the Navy's total construction force and 20 percent of the Naval Reserve.

College students keep drinking drivers off the road

In the midst of an age of stiff drunk driving laws, low-alcohol beer and designated driver programs, Illinois College students living in Turner Dormitory on the campus have come up with another idea designed to keep drinking drivers off the road.

The program they have initiated is called "Turner TRIP," with TRIP being an acronym for "Turner Rescues Intoxicated People."

THE PROGRAM is the brain child of dorm director Pat Nave and senior Don Compton of Granite City. Turner TRIP involves a taxi service for drinking individuals on Friday and Saturday nights. Four volunteers will staff dorm phones during two shifts and will pick up any individual who has had too much to drink. The first shift runs from 5 to 8 p.m. and the second from 8 p.m. to 2 a.m.

"We have posted signs in Baxter Dining Hall, the Caine Student Center, Scheve Library and all of the dorms," Compton said. "These signs contain the hours that our service is available as well as the phone numbers that students can call."

"Any person that thinks he or she had too much to drink and doesn't want to risk driving may call one of those numbers on any Friday or Saturday night. The persons on duty will come and pick them up and also drive the other car back to campus."

"PAT NAVE actually was the originator of this idea last semester and she passed it on to me. I took an informal survey of the dorm and found that most of the students agreed with the proposal. We then formed a committee consisting of myself as chairman; Joe Killday of Winchester, Jeff Downer of Joliet and Chuck Acklin of Joliet, volunteer organizers; Brian Politt of Astoria, poster artwork and Pat Nave as adviser."

"The point is that students on this campus care enough about their fellow students to volunteer their Friday and Saturday nights," Nave said.

Restitution, probation result of conduct plea

Gary L. Goecheff, 21, owner of the G&G's Deli, 2000 Washington Ave., has been ordered to serve one year of probation and pay $5,036 restitution and $35 in court costs on his guilty plea to a Sept. 7, 1984, charge of disorderly conduct.

Goecheff entered the plea and was sentenced Feb. 4 in Madison County Circuit Judge P. J. O'Neill's court.

Goecheff originally was charged with defrauding an insurance carrier in a felony informational document issued through the Madison county state's attorney's office. He also was booked on a Granite City charge of filing a false police report.

The charges stemmed from a report made by Goecheff on July 1, 1984, in which he alleged burglars entered his business place, ransacked the kitchen and storage area and stole four microwave ovens valued at $2,200, meat slicing equipment, coffee and meat items, food processors, an electric typewriter, a coffeemaker, stereo system, a CB radio and other property.

Goecheff allegedly collected $5,036 in insurance money from the Fireman's Insurance Co. after the burglary, it was reported. An official inquiry by the Illinois Department of Criminal Investigation and Granite City detectives resulted in Goecheff's arrest, it was noted.

Each office was reviewed on an individual basis beginning with the supervisor's salary, which is $6,000. He earns an additional $50 for serving as an ex-officio treasurer of the Road and Bridge Fund and receives $50 per month for car expenses within a limited radius of the township and further travel would net the supervisor 20 cents per mile.

THE ASSESSOR'S salary is $9,000 plus 20 cents per mile; the town clerk receives $4,831 and 20 cents a mile; the collector $7,260 a year and trustees receive $39 for each township meeting they attend.

Salary for the highway commissioner is $15,000. Before a vote was taken on this amount, Supervisor Walter "Dick" Sparks announced that Elmer W. Jernert, who is a candidate for highway commissioner on Sparks' slate, would agree to take a staggered salary. His suggestion was for the first year the salary would be set at $11,000 and increase $1,000 each year until the fourth year, when he would receive the total $15,000.

After the presentation by Sparks, the board of trustees voted three to two, with Sparks and Thomas Johnson voting no, to keep the highway commissioner's salary the same as the previous four-year period.

FOLLOWING THE vote, Sparks said that, in his opinion, everyone who holds a governmental office should not make as much as the people they serve.

"If that is what you think, then why didn't you take a cut in your salary?" Trustee Dudley Luebbert responded.

Capacity crowd at mayors reception

A capacity crowd of over 200 people attended a reception during the weekend for Granite City Mayor Paul Schuler.

The event was held at the American Legion Hall, 1825 State St., where many people came and were unable to be seated due to the overflow crowd.

Music for dancing was provided by The Third Wind band. All proceeds from the reception will be contributed to the mayor's campaign, according to a spokesman for the planning committee.

TWO HURT IN MISHAP ON MCKINLEY BRIDGE

A 1984 auto operated by Dennis L. Hollis, 41, of Glen Carbon, traveling east on the McKinley Bridge in Venice early this week, struck the sand barriers protecting the bridge superstructure, it was reported.

Hollis suffered an injury and was taken by squad car to the Venice Police Department and the vehicle was towed from the scene.

Shirley A. Hollis, 40, of Glen Carbon, a passenger, also was injured and was transported by police car to St. Elizabeth Medical Center for treatment.

STEAL FROM MAILBOX

A railroad pension check was stolen from the mailbox of Joseph Rowane, 1938 Benton St., he reported at 12:40 p.m. Monday. The check was delivered to his address Feb. 1, Rowane said.

DISORDERLY CHARGE FOLLOWS DUI ARREST

After James E. Schmieg, 22, of 2921 Washington Ave., was allegedly seen driving south on Madison Avenue without headlights last week, his car was stopped in the 1600 block of Madison Avenue.

He agreed to take a breathalyzer test and was charged with driving under the influence of alcohol and driving without headlights.

Ninety minutes later, upon paying $102 cash bail and about to be released from custody, Schmieg allegedly refused to sign his release paper and became abusive, cursing and making threats toward the officers, reports alleged.

He was charged with disorderly conduct and later was released after posting an additional $52 cash bond.

55-Alive Driving Course offered

The 55-Alive Driving Course will be offered to persons age 55 and older at Granite City Center, 4950 Maryville Road, this month.

This program is designed to increase older driver's concern for the normal age-related physical changes of vision, hearing and reaction time, as they affect driving. It also increases awareness of appropriate techniques for driving in today's complex traffic patterns.

The course will be conducted in Room 512 at the center on Tuesday, March 19, through Thursday March 21. The program will run from 6 to 9 p.m. each day. The cost is $7 per person for the three night sessions and may be paid on the first night of the class.

Most insurance companies will allow a discount on insurance premiums for seniors who have taken this class.

For further information, or to register for class, seniors may call the RSVP office in Granite City at 876-3223.

TWO PERSONS INJURED IN ACCIDENT ON 23RD STREET

Ronald L. Dillard, 29, of 2725 Sunset Drive, and a passenger in his car, Albert Ambuehl, 45, of 2713 Sunset Drive, were both injured when Dillard's car was involved in an accident at East 23rd Street and Nameoki Road, last week.

The driver of the other car was Stanley M. Jackson, 17, of 173 Briarwood Lane. Jackson and the three passengers in his car were not injured.

Dillard told police his car was stopped in the eastbound lane on East 23rd Street, waiting for a red light to change. The light changed and, before he could move his car, Jackson's car collided into the rear of his car, Dillard said.

SERVE ISP WARRANT

Roger L. Bruzatis, 23, of St. Louis, was charged with speeding during the weekend when his vehicle was stopped at East 23rd and August streets. He also was served with an Illinois State Police warrant, alleging driving while his license was suspended. He was released upon posting $204 cash bail.

WOMAN TAKES $32

Charles Monk, 804 Jackson St., Madison, told police during the weekend that a woman pushed him down and took $32 from him.

Local doctors named to Anderson Hospital posts

The Oliver C. Anderson Hospital board of trustees approved at its recent meeting the re-election of medical staff officers and confirmed the re-election of medical staff executive committee members for 1985.

Dr. Walter Zielonko of Troy was approved to serve a second term as president of the medical staff and chairman of the medical staff executive committee. Also approved for a second term were Dr. Shih-Chung Chang of Maryville as vice president, Dr. Michael Rallo with offices in Edwardsville and Collinsville as secretary, and Dr. Shoab Naqvi with offices in Granite City and Troy as treasurer.

The board also confirmed the re-election of five other physicians to the medical staff. Dr. Richard Chen of Collinsville, Dr. Jose Diaz who practices in Edwardsville and Col-

ALLEGES BEING CUT WITH BUTCHER KNIFE

Richard Everett Davis, 18, of the 1600 block of Second Street, Madison, was taken by ambulance to St. Elizabeth Medical Center during the weekend, after suffering a laceration to his left forearm. He had five sutures taken to close the wound.

Madison police are investigating allegations by Davis that he was punched by a man, who then began swinging a butcher knife at him and cut his arm.

The incident occurred at Davis' home and a suspect was taken into custody. No charges have been filed, pending further inquiries.

Sierra Club to study South Seas

"Living Simply: the Virgin Islands and the South Seas" is the topic of the Piasa Palisades Group of the Sierra Club, Monday, March 11.

Barbara Fisher, Principia College sociology professor, visited the islands in November 1984, her son, Mark, is in the Peace Corps working with teenagers there.

The nation of Kiribati (formerly the Gilbert Islands), is composed of many small, narrow islands scattered around the Pacific Ocean very near the Equator. The people subsist mainly on local diets of coconut meat and milk and live in simple huts—in tune with the ecosystem, since it is very hot all year.

Many of the men are sailors on ocean-going vessels, the family and community life has been impacted by the technology and industrialization of the Western World. As a former social worker and now sociology professor, the speaker will present her understanding of life on the islands—with the aid of slides that give a glimpse of literally "another world."

Dr. Jeb White, SIUE chemistry

professor, camped out with his wife, Betty, in the Cinnamon Bay Campground in the Virgin Islands National Park on the islands in 1978 and have spliced together a one-half hour film of the sights and sounds of the ecosystem and the people.

White is a longtime Piasa Palisades Group member, having served on the executive board and has held various community posts such as the chair of the Alton Environmental Quality Commission in the 1970's.

Sierra Club monthly meetings are open to the public and provide a variety of enlightening, educational and entertaining topics.

Houses for Sale 1 Houses for Sale 1

WE'RE SOLD ON YOUR HOUSE BEFORE WE SELL IT

Our theory is simple. We take the time to know your house, price it correctly, and discover its distinctive features. Because when we're sold on it, it's much easier to find the right buyers and close the sale.

Then, we even save you time after the sale by helping with the time-consuming paperwork. It's all a matter of spending our time wisely so it doesn't waste yours. This is another reason why CENTURY 21® helps more people buy or sell their homes than any other real estate sales organization in the world.

IP earnings increase in 1984, annual report shows

Illinois Power Company, Monday, released its annual report to stockholders for 1984. Earnings per share of common stock were $4.02, compared to $3.80 the previous year. This is an increase of 5.8 percent.

However, the ratio of 1984 earnings related to cash, compared to non-cash income, is lower than the previous years. In 1984, only $1.75 of the $4.02 earnings (or 44 percent) were cash earnings available to service debt.

Total operating expenses and taxes for the year were $11 million, or one percent lower than the previous year.

Wendell J. Kelley, chairman and president of Illinois Power Company, said that the improvement in earnings were due largely to the continued improvement in the economy of our service area and to our successful cost control program.

Citing the increased earnings and steady progress on construction of the Clinton nuclear power station, now more than 90 percent complete, Kelley said the company sees 1984 as a year of positive achievements.

The major accomplishment of 1984 was the series of construction milestones we completed as we progressed toward meeting our goal of getting the Clinton station into commercial operation in July of 1985.

The 1984 annual report features, in addition to the review of the year's activities, the company's industrial and commercial marketing activities that provide a "competitive edge" to the company and its customers.
